Justin LaVoie in Concert

Berkeley Community Theatre
2:30 PM, Sunday July 23

Enter through Stage Door at 1930 Allston Way

Justin LaVoie is a young rising star in the theatre organ world. He won the American Theatre Organ Society's Young Organist Competition in 2013, and since then has played at numerous venues across the United States.

After hearing a theatre organ recording at the age of six, this Detroit-area native was instantly captivated by the instrument's distinctive sound. Beginning in 2008, Justin attended several Summer Youth Adventures, conducted by the American Theatre Organ Society, deepening his knowledge of both the musical and mechanical aspects of the pipe organ.

Aside from his musical pursuits, Justin is also interested in the restoration and maintenance of pipe organs. His personal project is Opus 1880, the Wurlitzer organ from the Punch and Judy Theatre in Grosse Pointe, Michigan. He currently studies at the University of Oklahoma, pursuing a Bachelor of Music Arts Degree. Away from the console, he enjoys cooking, poetry, spending time outdoors, listening to a wide variety of music, and maintaining his extensive collection of early 20th century box cameras.

Whether at the console or in the chamber, Justin is passionately dedicated to carrying on the art of fine theatre organ music and sharing it with new audiences.

SUNDAY AUGUST 13 - PICNIC & WALTER STRONY IN CONCERT AT THE KEVIN KING ORGAN STUDIO

Picnic 12:30 pm – Concert 2:00 pm
2851 Creston Road
Walnut Creek

NorCal is looking forward to this event as over the years, Walter has played many wonderful concerts for us at Berkeley Community Theatre.

In July 2007 Walter performed the first solo organ recital to be presented in many years at New York's Radio City Music Hall for the American Theatre Organ Society's Annual Convention. In June 2016, he was featured for the second time in an evening concert on the famous Wanamaker organ in Philadelphia - the world's largest fully functioning pipe organ. He has also appeared at Sanfilippo Music Room in Barrington, Illinois.

In addition to his fine reputation as a concert organist, Mr. Strony is well known for his many recordings. His first CD "Phoenix" was rated 10/10 by CD Review - the highest rating given by this prestigious publication. He has recorded over 31 albums with his most recent CD (2013) being recorded on the Aveni Wurlitzer in Gates Mills, Ohio - an instrument that he designed. As an author, he is well known for his book "The Secrets Of Theatre Organ Registration," which has become the standard reference book on this subject. He is currently working on its expanded 2nd Edition, which will be released in 2017.

Walter is the only living organist to have been twice voted "Organist of the Year" by ATOS - in 1991 and 1993. In 2011, he was inducted into the ATOS "Hall of Fame." He has performed with the Calgary Symphony, Allentown Symphony, El Paso Symphony, and Symphony Silicon Valley.

Walter Strony

In addition to musical performance, he works as an organ consultant, most notably for instruments built by the Allen Organ Company. In collaboration with Allen Organs and the ATOS, he and four other artists recorded a five-DVD instructional video entitled "The Art of Playing Theatre Organ."

Some NorCal members probably remember Walter's debut to ATOS during the 1977 National Convention in Chicago at the ornate and (very) exotic Oriental Theater. We found out later he had to hand register the entire concert as the combination action was not working. A highlight of the concert for this writer was his Theme and Variations on the Oscar Meyer Hot Dog Commercial.

And: If you would like to know more about Walter, just check out his extensive entry in none other than Wikipedia!

SUNDAY AUGUST 27 - BILL LANGFORD REMEMBRANCE

1:00 pm to 5:00 pm,
Berkeley Community Theatre

NorCal will be holding a remembrance gathering for Bill at Berkeley Community Theatre. There will be light refreshments and we will be playing back Bill's concert from 1998 (including that unforgettable Clarinet Lesson!). Enter through the stage door on Allston Way. By the way, this date would have been Bill's 89th birthday - So come and celebrate his life!

Eddie Glockenspiel (AKA Bill Langford) at his prime at YOPJ

We thank Gary Parks who posted the following remembrance:

A one-time Bay Area institution has left our sight. BILL LANGFORD, the very first person [actually Dave Quinlan preceded Bill at YOPJ – Ed.] to play a Wurlitzer organ in a pizza parlor, thereby initiating a trend, passed away in late April. I met him in 1990 when we began sharing a church music gig together, and we became fast friends. Many years ago, he collaborated with Steve Allen, and had a radio show of his own. While he didn't date back to the silent era as an organist, obviously, he was a leader in the next generation of theatre organists. He held forth at Ye Olde Pizza Joynt on Hesperian in San Lorenzo, where he played the organ salvaged from the Fox State Theatre in Fresno, controlled by the console originally from the [San Francisco] Warfield.

Later, Bill played at a pizza parlor in Fort Wayne, Indiana, where there was an organ that used the mammoth console from the Brooklyn Fox. When he came back to the Bay Area, he played at Pizza and Pipes in Santa Clara, which is where he was employed when we met. ... Bill played a twenty-minute prologue of show music when we married on stage at the Golden State Theatre in Monterey (former organ of the Parkside, San Francisco) December 8, 2001. Thank you, Bill, for a wonderful friendship: For miles of laughs, moral support when I was a discouraged, divorced guy in the 1990s, and for helping me get a better sense of what it was like in an earlier, more level-headed era.

Your Editor, his late wife Evelyn, and our son and daughter (Robert and Margaret) spent many a Sunday evening enjoying Bill's delightful music, his great sense of humor, and the Henningsen family's warm hospitality and never to be forgotten pizza!

choo choo sounds created with the palm of his left hand on the accompaniment manual. Bill had a trunk next to the console. Late on Saturday night, he'd open the trunk, which contained a variety of hats and other props, and do a stand-up comedy routine for the adult audience, which always filled the restaurant, anticipating his act.

Pizza Joynt publicity listed Bill variously by several different comical names which he concocted, such as Eddie Glockenspiel. Bill presented concerts for NorCal and other organizations around the country. He last played for us with Paul Quarino at a NorCal picnic at Bert Atwood's residence at Clear Lake. We will long remember Bill for his warm friendliness and good humor and musical talent.

CHAIRMAN'S WIND LINE

Memories

In the March Windsheet, I was reminiscing about the many venues with theatre organs in the Bay Area. I named the 3 theatres which remained with organs, in 1974, but not the 19 organ equipped restaurants in the Bay Area. Foremost in my recollection was Ye Olde Pizza Joynt, with its 3-mauel theatre pipe organ, on Hesperian Boulevard. in San Lorenzo.

Living on the Peninsula, there were organ equipped pizza restaurants closer to home, some with larger organs, but not with organists like Bill Langford. Bill was playing an electronic organ at the New Southern Restaurant in South San Francisco, when he was hired to play at the Pizza Joynt by its owner, Carsten Henningsen. Bill was an entertainer as well as a musician. His rapport with his audience was unique. If there were children in the restaurant, which was a frequent occurrence, he would soon play Chattanooga Choo Choo, starting with a blast on a whistle and

Review by Kevin King

Sunday, June 25th saw the return of one of NorCal's favorite artists, Mr. Jonas Nordwall. One can always count on Jonas to offer a program filled with the widest variety of musical selections. We heard everything from complex classical offerings, to traditional standards, to "runway music." The concert started with "I could Have Danced All Night" as the console-riser. This lead to the Barbra Streisand standard "The Way We Were." Jonas provided interesting musical history as he introduced each selection. Next, Jonas shared with us the difficulty of explaining to his younger students the concept of burlesque music. He made the concept clear to us with his smoky dance hall rendition of "Love Me or Leave Me."

Two of the following pieces were: "The Wig" and "The Marriage of Figaro." Next up was a Don Baker tribute medley including “Exodus”, “Intermezzo”, and “I Love a Parade.” Trying to sit still was not an option during a fiery “España Cani.” The first half of the concert ended with the beautiful “Fountain Reverie” and “Allegro” from Widor’s 5th symphony.

Later we heard what Jonas described as the “Sabre Dance of the organ world” this being the Mushel “Toccata” which is a non-stop, rhythmic, runaway keyboard workout; a highlight of the program for me. Another highlight was his beautiful arrangement of the timeless classic “Moon River.” Every subtle nuance of the softer ranks in our instrument shone masterfully in this selection. All too soon we were at the finale, which was Slaughter on 10th Avenue.

As always, Jonas shared his flawless technique, historical knowledge, humor, and artistry at the highest level. He makes the near-impossible look effortless. Thanks again Jonas!
