

St Mary & St Radegund, Postling

The origin of the church is Norman, and it still has some Norman architectural features. One very unusual item is a dedication stone, rare in Kent- sadly the Latin inscription did not mention the actual year of dedication! Medieval wall painting and remains of a rood screen are other interesting features.