TO MY FAMILY -----

-----HATTIE, CHRISTINA and AMANDA

The following two poems seemed appropriate for this volume.

HISTORY

History is an important event
Of people and things they invent
These things we should not forget
And generations they did beget

Our heritage is our pride
Giving us pleasure inside
Learning from where we came
Our ancestors and their names

We write this history in a book
For our children to look
Into the past and see
This is how we came to be

May they have pride as well
As they continue to tell
Their children of the past
So this history will last

We hope they will add to
And help history to continue
So future generations to be
Will also have history to read

GENERATIONS

When I was very small
I watched older people in awe
There were so many around
But now are gone I have found

Several years have now passed
Seemed to go by very fast
Now children look at me
They are like I used to be

(From, LIVING POETRY, by Hattie Sansom Turner)

NUMBERING SYSTEM

You will note that in the compilation of this book a numbering system has been used which may need a word of explanation. All children of each set of parents are numbered with lower-case Roman numerals, and if they are known to have married and had family, an additional gothic number is given to the left. This gothic number directs you forward one generation where the number will be listed (in parentheses) for that person as a married adult. If children are not carried forward, all available information about them is given where they are listed in their parent's household.

Where possible children are listed in chronological order. This is not always possible and in some cases the youngest child could be listed first, etc.

The following example is given to help the reader further understand the organizational system used in this book.

(4) WILLIAM², son of John¹ Sansom, was born ca 1897, married 7 February 1824 in Lawrence County, Kentucky MARY WHITE, born ca 1807. She was perhaps a daughter of Benjamin and Ann (Stewart) White. William and Mary were living in Logan County, (West) Virginia when the 1850 census was taken. William was living with Alexander Hall in 1880.

Issue:

- 16 i-GORDON SANSOM, married JANE HICKS
- 17 ii-JOHN WESLEY SANSOM, married (1) SPICY McNEELY, and (2) VICTORIA LINVILLE
- 18 iii-JAMES SANSOM, married MARY LUCY MILES
 - iv-FLOYD SANSOM, born ca 1839
 - v-OVERTON SANSOM, born ca 1841, died ca 1854
 - vi-ANDREW SANSOM, born ca 1845
 - vii-MELVIN SANSOM, born ca 1847
 - viii-PARTHAENA SANSOM, born ca 1848

The raised number after the capitalized name is the number of the generation from the progenitor. The progenitor is generation¹, his children are generation², their children are generation³, etc.

INTRODUCTION

John Sanson, the progenitor of most of the Sansom descendants now living in West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio, according to tradition, came to America from England as a boy of fourteen years. This may be true but records tend to show otherwise.

When the Logan County, West Virginia 1880 census was taken two of John's children were still living in that county and told the census enumerator that their father was born in Virginia. Furthermore, in the early census records that were taken while John was still living show that he was not of foreign birth. So we must assume that the records were correct. It should be noted here that tradition usually contains some basis of truth, but during the retelling from generation to generation it sometimes becomes sadly perverted.

John Sansom was married 24 April 1797 in Montgomery County, Virginia to Elizabeth Davidson, born about 1781. His name appears on the Personal Property Tax List of Tazewell County, Virginia in the years 1802 and 1803. His name also appears on the 1806 Tazewell County, Virginia Land Tax List as owning 100 acres of land. In the years 1810 and 1815 he appears on the Tax List of Cabell County, Virginia (a part of which is now Logan County, West Virginia).

John Sansom purchased two tracts of land in 1814 in Cabell County. The first, 23 August 1814 from James Bias and his wife Peggy for $150.00. The land was located on the Guyandotte River. The second tract was purchased 1 October 1814 from William Dingess for $300.00 for 100 acres in Cabell County. The land was located on the Spruce Fork of Coal River. He later deeded half of this land to his son Elias Sansom. Both of these parcels of land are in what is now Logan County, West Virginia.

In the early 1820s John Sansom and his family moved to Kentucky. His eldest son, James Sansom, married in Pike County in 1823. His next oldest son, William Sansom, married in Lawrence County, Kentucky in 1824. John and his household appear in the 1830 census of Lawrence County, Kentucky.

John Sansom returned to Logan County, (West) Virginia before 1840. His household is listed in that census. At least two of his sons, Abel and Andrew, settled in Wayne County, West Virginia and raised large families. John Sansom, Jr. remained in Pike County, Kentucky, but some of John, Jr's children settled in Webster County, West Virginia.

Most of the Sansoms of West Virginia and Eastern Kentucky can be traced back to John and Elizabeth (Davidson) Sansom.

In the preparation of this book all known source materials were examined which necessitated extensive research in person in several West Virginia counties, also it was necessary to contact a great number of Sansom descendants for information relating to their respective families. There were many that could not be contacted, therefore could not be included in this genealogy. Then too, a few people contacted never got around to sending their family data. Due to this some families will not be as fully covered as others. Also, some errors and oversights will get into the finished book that may have otherwise been avoided. I apologize for these mistakes though much effort has been expended to keep them to a minimum.

A FEW WORDS ABOUT THE NAME AND FAMILY ORIGIN

Among the Norman nobles who followed William the Conqueror into England in 1066 A.D. were Ralph and Thomas de St, Sampson. They were born at Donvre, near Caen, France; sons of Osbert and Muriel, who were of noble lineage. Osbert was a priest, and the family lived near the Monastery of St. Sampson of Roen. It was from the Monastery of St. Sampson some historians believe the Sampson family received their surname. (The prefix "de" signifies "of" or "from").

In the early English records the names Sampson, Sansom, Sansome, Sansum, and other variations, seemingly in many instances, refer to the same person.

It would not be unlikely that it was descendants of these families that came to the shores of America. The first of whom was perhaps Richard Sansom who came to America in the ship "Elizabeth and Ann" on 14 May 1635. However his relationship to the later Sansoms has yet to be determined.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I sincerely thank the many friends for their encouragement and interest and particularly for preparing and furnishing me with genealogical data relating to their respective families.

Special thanks and credit to the following who did extra work and contributed much more than their own family information:
