

Long Life Prayer for Wangdor Rinpoche Teacher of Lama Lena Yeshe Kaytup

The wisdom treasure of every Buddha's kindness and knowledge,
Is the singular force which subdues demons that others cannot,
Indivisible from the supremely sublime Lord of Beings with Lotus in Hand,
O Glorious Lama – may you be victorious!

Each and every experience of subject object duality,
Is spontaneously complete in the expanse of radiant thigles,
Transporting us to the primordial place stainless and free from confusion,
Grub-wang Wang-chug Dor-je, The Realized One Mighty Vajra – may you live long!

Sole refuge for beings and teachings – O Dharma Lord,
For the three types who can be guided, Wonderful Dharma teachings are given,
In accord with their circumstances,
And they are shown the path of ripening and liberation.
O Peerless Protector of Beings – May you live long!

Outwardly you tame with Bodhisattva actions,
Inwardly you have the confidence of twofold yoga [developing & completion],
Secretly you transform the depths (of samsara) – You are the Lotus Holder incarnate
You are the sublime precious guide for these dark times – may you live long!

Through the power and blessings of this prayer,
May I and all those who've become your disciples,
Never be without you and may we continuously remain so forever.
We pray to you to bestow Great Secret Dharma Teachings!

The blessings of the Three Jewels and Three Root Deities,
Rules the logic of cause and result – it never deceives for it carries the power of truth.
May we, through the power of this truth have the single minded aspiration
That you will live for a hundred years and realize the Vajra Body!
