Through the course of the investigation, detectives identified the suspect vehicle, developed multiple investigative leads, and identified at least three individuals believed to have been involved. Accomplishments

Fourth of July

The Fourth of July holiday requires additional operational support due to the increased volume of emergency and non-emergency calls, especially those involving fireworks and fire-related incidents.

To meet the demand, Communications Specialists were assigned to work at Horizon City Police Department and the El Paso County 911 District. Personnel assigned to the El Paso County 911 District were responsible for call-taking operations, while those assigned to the Horizon City Police Department handled police and fire dispatching. Crisis radio procedures were utilized from 1900 to 0100 hours to maintain effective communication and coordination.

During this timeframe, the Communications Division managed approximately 45 police calls, with many involving fireworks activity, along with 73 county fire calls, including 40 brush fires and four structure fires.

Thank you to all personnel who worked during this operational period. Your dedication, teamwork, and commitment to serving the community are greatly appreciated.

Quality Assurance: Achieving QA/QI in the PSAP

The Communications Assistant Manager Irlanda Huerta and Shift Supervisor Stephanie Cortes completed the NENA Quality Assurance: Achieving QA/QI in the PSAP course. This 8-hour training focused on the development of a quality improvement program, effective quality assurance reviews, and the importance of consistent performance evaluations within the PSAP.

The training will assist the Communications Division in strengthening call review processes, identifying areas for improvement, enhancing employee development, and ensuring high-quality service is provided to the community.

CAD Essentials

Communications Specialists Ericka Gonzalez and Dalila De La Torre completed the two-day CAD Essentials Course at the El Paso County 911 District. The training focused on Hexagon's 9.4 Computer-Aided Dispatch (CAD) system, which is the primary software used by Communications Specialists to create 911 calls, collect incident information, assign appropriate resources, track emergency responses, and maintain real-time communication between dispatchers and field personnel.

The hands-on course covered the I/Calltaker and I/Dispatcher applications, strengthening the specialists' knowledge of CAD functions, improving workflow efficiency, and supporting accurate call processing and effective emergency response coordination.
