One of the Most Important Games for Eagles!

by Polina Svetailo on October 01

The star of the season, Jalen Hurts, scored three touchdowns at the Eagles' Sunday game, bringing them to victory.

Both teams value the outcome of the match. The Commanders want the victory to bounce back and have a winning record, while the Eagles will receive their third victory in as many games and will start to be seen as one of the favorites in the division and conference.

The game was beautiful, as the Eagles maintained their perfect record in the NFL by going 4-0 with no defeats this year. The game started poorly due to the weather, but it improved by the time Jalen Hurts picked off six passes. They were down 0-14 at the end of the first quarter, which is two touchdowns.

We scored 20 points in the second quarter thanks to a Miles Sanders and Jalen Hurts offensive explosion. We are the first team in NFL history to score 85 points in the second quarter after four games, defeating the 19-37 Chicago Bears who only scored 75.

We made a few strong defensive stops to get to halftime. Due to a mild forearm injury that was present prior to the game, James Bredberry was forced to play quarterback and threw a significant interception in the red zone. Coach Sirianni notably mentioned Jalen Hurts in the previous game during the press conference after the game, which was a success.

"He played his butt off again," coach Nick Sirianni said. "What was great there is that they were taking away some of the things in the run game. To be able to go out there and say, 'OK, you're doing a good job on the run, let's go pass the football,' Jalen did a great job and we had great playmakers make plays."

The support of the crowd was crucial in finishing the game. Any time you play away from home, it's good to feel a little bit at home and to know that fans are there to cheer you on. "It definitely felt like a home game just how loud it was, how much green and black was in the stadium," Hurts said.
