REDUCE INEQUALITY WITHIN AND AMONG COUNTRIES

Lincoln University College (LUC) upholds a philosophy of equalising education for all students and aiding the underprivileged, particularly the disabled, by granting them access to the university and continuing to give scholarships until they graduate. Every year, announcements about new student recruitment are examined and made available to underprivileged students in an effort to increase the diversity of educational options and establish equal access to higher education for those with disabilities. Additionally, it offers scholarships to students from Bangladesh, China, Vietnam, Cambodia, Nigeria, and other developing nations, as well as possibilities for international students from these nations.

LUC has a policy to provide educational equality to the general public and support the underprivileged especially the disabled as per the university's rules and regulations. LUC promote the spread of educational opportunities and creating educational equality for people with disabilities to access higher education.

EQUALITY IN RECRUITMENT

We strongly believe that the Lincoln University College (LUC) needs equality and diversity in order to be a dynamic, proud, and prosperous institution. Our goals go beyond just being an ethical employer to include providing our employees and students with a stimulating and LUC can benefit greatly from having a varied workforce that includes individuals of all ages, races, and socioeconomic backgrounds. It facilitates innovation and creativity, which helps us advance and move closer to our strategic goals.
