REINSURANCE MARKET

Lloyds of London is considered the premier insurance and reinsurance market in the world. Formed in 1689 in a London coffee shop, Lloyds has over 300 years of knowledge and expertise in the international insurance markets. It is not like any other traditional insurance or reinsurance company, it is actually made up of various members which come together to form underwriting syndicates to pool and spread the various underlying risks. There are close to 300 Lloyd syndicates worldwide, each specializing in a particular type of risk. It is this vast network of members which consists of individuals and corporations that gives Lloyd unmatched financial strength to insure in over 200 countries worldwide.

And because of our association with Lloyds of London, any one of our products that are under Lloyd's umbrella is extended the same financial stability consistent with the Lloyds market.
