How We Operate

Therapeutic Tanks was started in 2016 by a special operations veteran and run by senior level board of directors who are passionate and dedicated to accurately using, and logging all funds donated to the charity. The board of directors consist of both military and business professionals, offering valuable insight, direction, and accountability.

How We Do It

Therapeutic Tanks does not maintain inventory until a new applicant is approved which keeps our operational costs low. The management team works on a volunteer basis but we do pay our “tank commanders” who operate as independent contractors. A tank commander services each saltwater aquarium on a bi-weekly basis ensuring the health of the aquarium through sustainable reefing practices.

Therapeutic Tanks currently operates in Florida, Georgia, and North Carolina. Serving active duty and veterans on military bases and in their local communities
