Traveling

Paris, France

Traveling has been a lifelong passion of mine

There are few things more important in this world than understanding other people's perspectives.

Traveling is the best way to challenge predispositions about yourself and other cultures.

- Traveling has allowed me to gain a deeper understanding of my two homes (US and Mexico).
- I have been lucky to visit most Mexican states and 30 American states
- These experiences have helped me better understand myself and my place in the North American continent.

Guanajuato, Mexico

Painted ladies, San Francisco

- Traveling has pushed me to:
 - Step out of my comfort zone
 - Develop new friendships
 - Challenge my own pre-dispositions

Moscow, Russia

Florence, Italy

Copenhagen, Denmark

Traveling has allowed me to follow my other passion, soccer

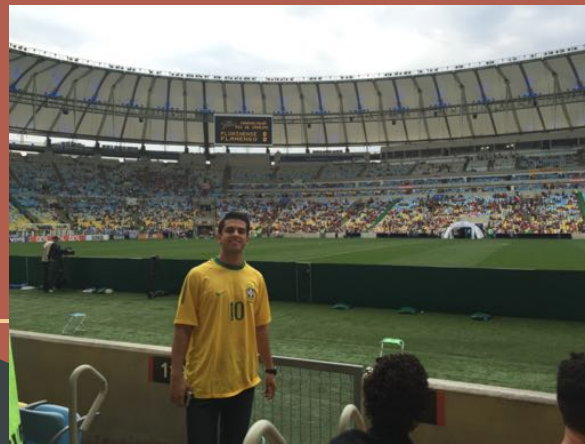

Santiago Bernabeu, Madrid

San Siro, Milan

Portugal vs. Uruguay (Sochi)

Maracanã, Rio de Janeiro

St. Petersburg

Learning about new religions

Learning about different religions allows you to relate to individuals across the globe. Although religions have many disagreements, they all have the commonality of being moral compasses. Anyone can learn from the ancient wisdom of any other religion, regardless of their own beliefs.

Meenakshi Temple, Madurai, India

Learning about the past, in order to be best prepared for the future

I have treated my travels like cultural and educational experiences. Learning about the past is the most efficient way to be prepared for whatever the future may hold. Sights such as Hiroshima's blast hypocenter are reminders of the worst aspects of humanity and teachers about how to act as human beings moving forward.

Spend more time with my loved ones

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil

Positano, Italy

There is nothing more important in this world to me than family. Traveling with loved ones enriches our relationships and builds life-long memories.

Explore mother earth and have a greater appreciation for our planet

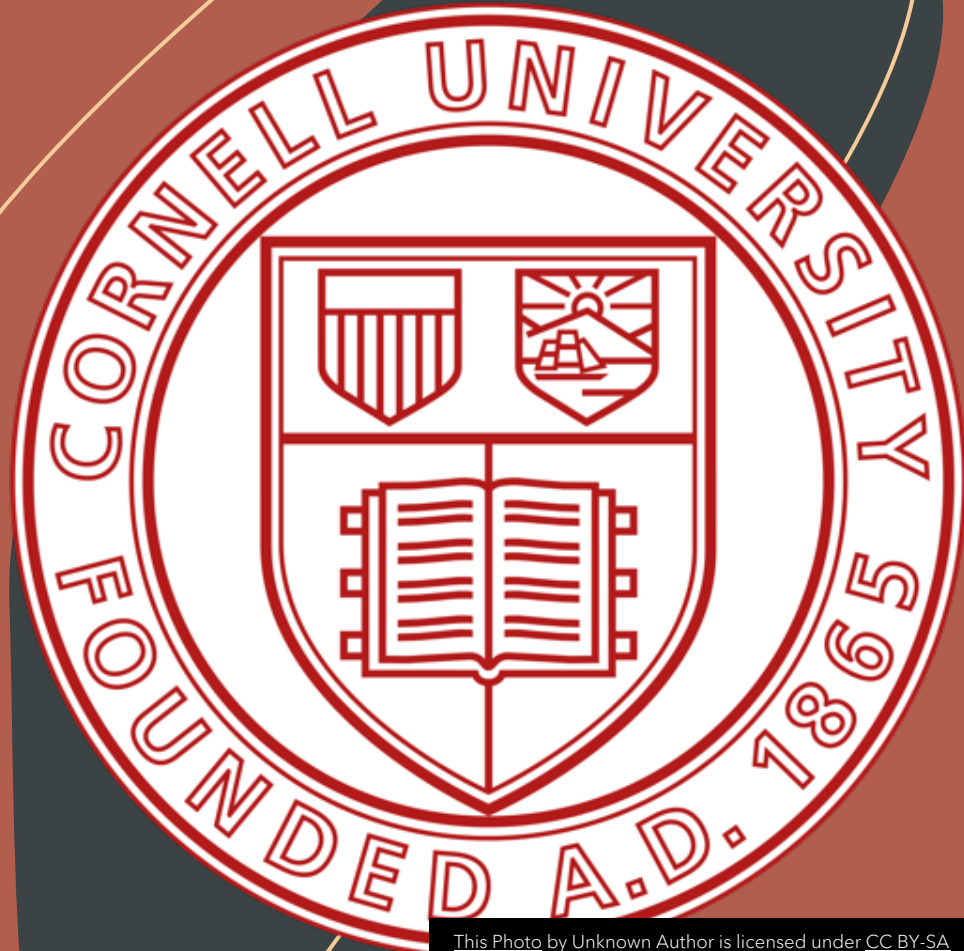

Visiting natural wonders around the world has motivated me to emphasize sustainability in our own business. Specialty Fruits is now a fully organic operation and we work continuously to lower our carbon footprint

I am passionate about traveling because it is one of the best teachers about people. It allows us to gain a better understanding of the world in a fun and engaging way. Traveling will hopefully continue to be a big part of my life for as long as possible.

Thank you for taking the time and effort in getting to know me and my passion for traveling a bit better.

My best,
