To Whom It May Concern:

RE: Driven Industrial

The Town of Fort Erie has recently selected Driven Industrial as our contractor for a project within our facilities. They were selected as the qualified contractor with competitive pricing for the relocation of a large historical artifact.

The project involved the relocation of a large, industrial artifact that required a coordinated approach to ensure the historical artifact was relocated safely and securely. The move required machinery working within a confined location and a tight timeframe. The staff from Driven Industrial met these challenges and completed the project on time and within budget.

I would recommend Driven Industrial to anyone looking for a quality industrial contractor at a competitive price. Should you like to discuss our relationship with Driven Industrial further please contact the undersigned.

Yours Truly,

Sean Hutton,
