FIVE DOCS ON AMERICA: Films

From Mill River to Babylon and Back... The Jimmy Massey Story - A Marine Iraq War veteran returns home and risks everything to tell what he says is the truth about war, and what it did to him.

Citizen Clark... A Life of Principle - One man's uncompromising conscience inside American power: former U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark, principled and controversial to the end.

Rural Matters: Poverty in the Other America - Community members with lived experience lead the story, alongside researchers and advocates who provide national context for rural poverty.

Twice Upon a Time in America - Americans across the U.S. speak from the fault line of COVID and George Floyd's aftermath, when isolation lifted the lid on racial and economic reality.

The History of South Texas - A 500-year borderlands story of conquest, exploitation, and resilience that reshapes how you understand South Texas, and the nation.
