

The South Valley Rose Society Presents A Rose Horticulture Workshop

This workshop is about entering your roses in an American Rose Society (ARS) Rose Show. Examples of winning horticulture entries and photographs are shown above. Some of the topics we will cover: the show schedule, what it is, why it is important, how to read it. You will learn how to groom your roses. What is a grooming kit and what does it contain? Some of the common rose classifications and where they can be entered. When to cut your roses from your yard. How to store them, how to transport them to the show. There are usually many different options as to where a rose could be entered in a show, you will learn how to decide the best place to enter it. How to fill out the entry tag. What are the judges looking for in a winning entry?
