

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

About Women with Initiatives, Inc.

What is Women with Initiatives, Inc.?

Women with Initiatives, Inc. (WWI) is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization dedicated to empowering women and improving the lives of children in underserved communities across North America, the Caribbean, and West Africa.

What is WWI's mission?

Our mission is to equip women and support children through practical, sustainable programs that promote education, economic empowerment, and access to essential resources.

Programs & Impact

What programs does WWI offer?

WWI focuses on three core initiatives:

- Feminine Hygiene & Sanitation Kits – We distribute care kits to teenage girls to promote health, dignity, and school attendance.
- Need-Based Scholarships – We provide K-12 educational support to children in underserved communities, helping cover tuition, school fees, and supplies.
- Vocational Training for Women – We offer skills-based training such as pastry arts, sewing, and soap making to help women achieve economic independence.

Who benefits from your programs?

Our programs serve women and children in economically disadvantaged communities both locally and internationally.

Giving & Support

How can I donate?

You can donate securely through our website. Contributions may be directed toward specific programs or provided as general support to help expand our impact.

What does my donation support?

Examples of giving levels include:

- $10 – Provides a feminine hygiene care kit to teenagers
- $15 – Supports a child's education through scholarships
- $25 – Assist with sponsoring vocational training for a woman

Every donation directly contributes to empowering women and supporting children in need.

Are donations tax-deductible?

Yes. Women with Initiatives, Inc. is a registered 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, and donations are tax-deductible to the extent permitted by law.

Who oversees programs?

Program Directors in host countries manage program activities with oversight from executives based in the United States.

Membership & Volunteering

Can I become a member?

Yes. WWI offers annual membership opportunities for individuals who want to actively support and advance our mission. Membership contributions directly support program implementation and outreach efforts.

How can I volunteer?

We welcome volunteers who are passionate about making a difference. Opportunities may include roles such as Social Media Coordination, Web Development, and Fundraising & Outreach Support. Please contact us through our website to learn about current openings.
