Better Living through Design

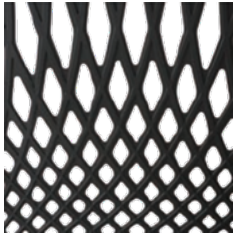

Any modern ergonomic workplace should provide healthy seating. While many task chairs today are equipped with a lumbar support, only a few of them look attractive. Signac's semi-transparent, soft vinyl lumbar module snugly fits into the outer metal frame and can easily be height adjusted.

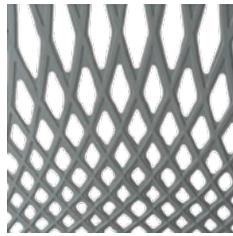

While its design is light and unobtrusive, the Signac chair exhibits formidable design consistency in all details. The beautifully modelled armrest is the perfect embodiment of this well thought through design: both comfortable and expressive.
