The AMARA chair collection is driven by the idea to rethink the one-shell chair archetype. Outlines of the plastic shell gracefully flow from the seat to the back and create a loop which gently embraces the back cushion. This elegant touch creates unique visual dialogue between the cushion and the plastic frame and evokes perception of levitation and lightness.

Moreover, designed for the modern office environment and the broad target audience, the AMARA chair family provides extra comfort and advanced ergonomics. The open lumbar area and flexible back allow a user to sit in the most comfortable posture. Inner structure of the back cushion follows the body's natural movement and maximized flexibility.

The AMARA chair is adaptable to a large variety of different frames and configurations. Essential yet recognizable visual language perfectly matches both contract, healthcare, hospitality & Residential environments.
