

People's caravan

To raise awareness or lobby on an issue.

A group of people travelling together in procession often to raise awareness or lobby on a particular issue. Some people might stay for the whole journey whilst others might join or leave the caravan at points.