Our Story

est. 1689

Kings Mills has been a part of Pennsylvania history for more than three centuries. From its beginnings as a grist mill to its transformation into one of the region's most cherished wedding venue, our legacy is built on craftsmanship, community and unforgettable celebrations.

1689 The Beginning

Kings Mills dates back to the late 1600s during the colonial period. Two stone mills were built on the property followed by the construction of the mill keeper's house.

1775 Iron Foundry

Later, the Mills were converted to an iron foundry, which mainly produced cut nails for the local gentry. Some nails can still be found in the Chester Creek today.

1800 Textile Mill

In the 1800s, the Mills became a textile mill used for the production of cloth and clothing, along with serving as a temporary hospital for wounded soliders from the Battle of Gettysburg just 60 miles away.

1915 Restoration

Purchased by Samuel D.Riddle, the Mills underwent a meticulous restoration that preserved the original architecture and craftsmanship of a bygone era.

Present Day

Today, Kings Mills is a cherished venue where history and romance meet-- offering unforgettable celebrations for couples and their guests.
