

FOCUS ON A STAR by Walter L. Williams 2021 May

You are in heaven anywhere,
No matter where you are.
Look in the sky at darkest night,
And focus on a star.
If you are held against your will,
With bars and chains so tight,
They may control your every move,
They think they have the right.

They want to force their plans on you,
They claim morality.
But you know love within your heart,
And that can set you free.
Of all experiences of life,
Love is the best by far.
Remember loves that you have had,
And focus on that star.

So many people go through life,
And never feel great love,
It's tragic that they cannot see,
Their shining star above.
How fortunate we are when we,
Have found love in our life.
How blessed we are to understand,
That love surpasses strife.

Some think they hold the power,
By shackling your feet,
But they can't put those shackles on,
Your mind, to be complete.
If you retain your focus on,
That star that shines above,
Remember your experiences,
Your memories of love.

Hold them sincerely in your heart,
They're precious more than gold.
Remember joy you felt before,
In youth or when you're old.
You know for sure what's in your heart,
Hold to what's right for you.
Make this world a better place,
Help others to be true.

Compassion and unselfishness,
Are what define true love,
If you develop all of that,
You'll see that star above.
No one can take away from you,
No matter how they try,
Your spirit and your memories,
Just look in that dark sky.

You are in heaven easily,
No matter where you are.
Look in your mind at darkest time,
And find your waiting star.
All crude attempts are bound to fail,
They can't pull you apart.
They can't wipe out that shining star,
When love burns in your heart.
