

MEMORY by Walter L. Williams 2021 May-October

If I should pass from this life soon,
Will you remember me?
Would things I said and taught to you,
Be in your memory?
Would they then form a part of you,
Attaching to your core?
Or would they die along with me,
Appearing never more?

CHORUS:

Remember in the darkest night, As shadows disappear.
Remember in the brightest day, Both times I will be here.
My spirit will be with you then, At any time, you'll see.
If you just think back to our time, Hold dear your memory.

As we go quickly through this life,
We never know if we,
Will really make a difference to
Become a memory.
I used to wish for wealth and fame,
For opportunity,
But those desires have disappeared,
Of those I now am free.

CHORUS:

Remember in the darkest night, As shadows disappear.
Remember in the brightest day, Both times I will be here.
My spirit will be with you then, At any time, you'll see.
If you just think back to our time, Hold dear your memory.

These days the strongest hope I have,
A possibility,
Is when you're thinking of your life,
You will remember me.
Forget the problems and the strife,
The insecurity.
Remember how we laughed and sang,
Enjoying playfully.

CHORUS:

Remember in the darkest night, As shadows disappear.
Remember in the brightest day, Both times I will be here.
My spirit will be with you then, At any time, you'll see.
If you just think back to our time, Hold dear your memory.

It's memories that have the most,
 Potentiality,
Allowing us the chance to see,
 A feasibility.
For meaning and for value that
 We want to pass along,
To those we love and treasure most,
 To help them grow more strong.

CHORUS:

Remember in the darkest night, As shadows disappear.
Remember in the brightest day, Both times I will be here.
My spirit will be with you then, At any time, you'll see.
If you just think back to our time, Hold dear your memory.

Great strength is needed all the more,
 Since we can hardly see,
We don't know where we're going now,
 We don't know where we'll be.
The future is impossible,
 To know what may decree,
The only wish that I can hope,
 You will remember me.

CHORUS:

Remember in the darkest night, As shadows disappear.
Remember in the brightest day, Both times I will be here.
My spirit will be with you then, At any time, you'll see.
If you just think back to our time, Hold dear your memory.

Good memories are what we gain,
 By loving openly.
All those we cherish most of all,
 Will keep our memory.
