Veteran Connect Research Project (VCRP) 24/25

Inspire  Real Change

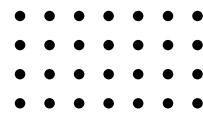

The Veteran Connect Research Project was established to collect, analyze, and develop data that strengthens support for Veterans and their families across South Carolina. By transforming information into actionable insights, the project aims to improve access to services, enhance coordination among providers, and ensure that every Veteran receives the care and opportunities they have earned through their service.

Veteran-Focused Topics

The Veteran Connect Research Project successfully fulfilled its mission of collecting, analyzing, and developing Veteran data across a broad demographic of South Carolina Veterans and their families. The findings have informed data-driven strategies to improve access to housing, healthcare, and supportive services.

SC Veteran Network

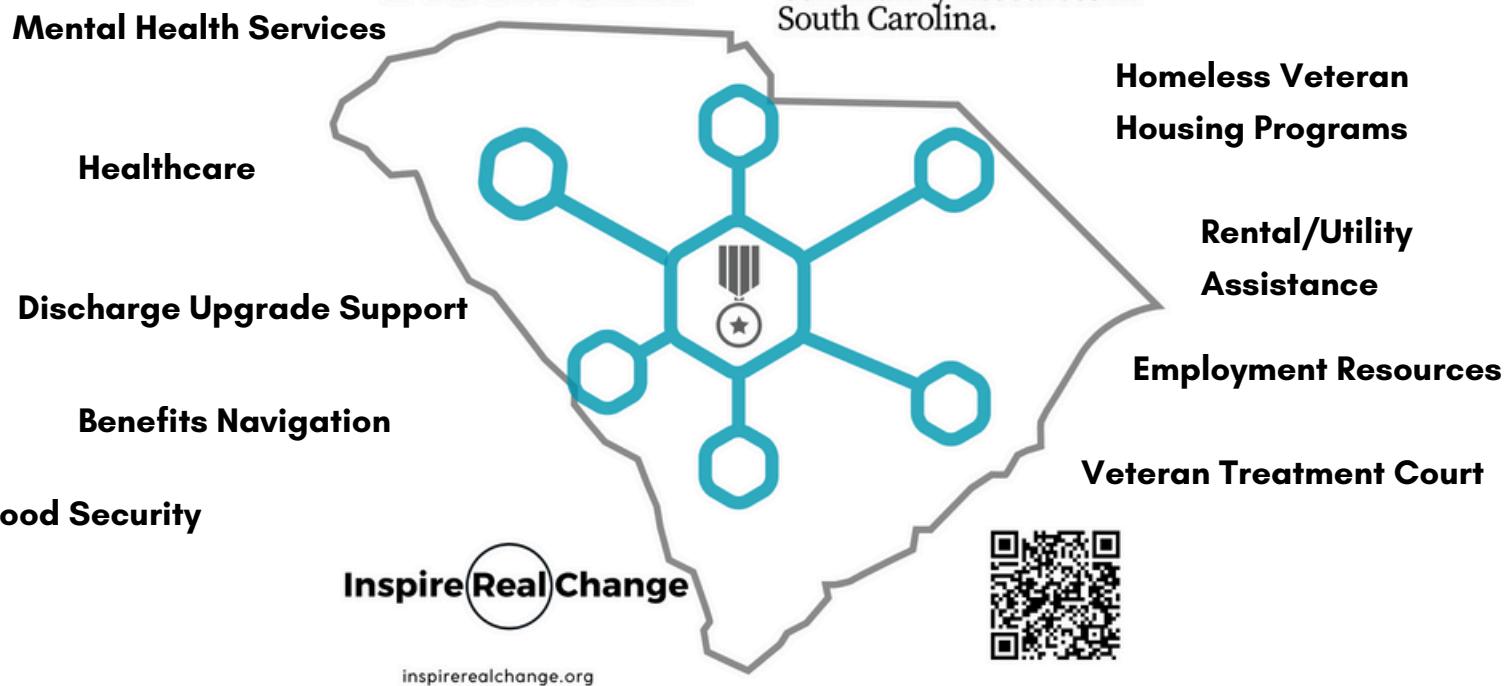

Through research initiatives, Inspire Real Change identified that many Veterans across South Carolina face barriers in accessing information about the supportive resources available to them. In response, the organization reinvented the Veteran Connect Project and established the SC Veteran Network to close this information gap and improve access to care.

Inspire Real Change remains dedicated to addressing the challenges Veterans encounter by providing direct outreach, assessments, and connections to essential services. Through the SC Veteran Network, the organization engages Veterans where they are—on the streets, in shelters, and within communities—to ensure no one is left behind. Veterans and their families can contact Inspire Real Change for personalized guidance and referrals to both Veteran-specific and community-based programs across South Carolina, helping them access housing, healthcare, employment, and other critical supports.
