They will be a home and a community for people who do not have a home or community.

They will provide permanent, supportive housing for families and individuals.

They will inspire the greater community to a lifestyle of love and service. No matter one's religion, faith or absence of faith in God, this is a place where we can work together with a common purpose.

They will be the best expression of the body of Christ in Galveston County. People who follow Christ coming together, despite denominational, theological, doctrinal, stylistic differences, to love our neighbors in need.

They will create a community where people are supported, have dignity, and experience the kindness and goodness of God in practical ways.
