

Business integrity for Small and Mid-size Business

Protecting your business from corruption, sanctions and human rights risks isn't just about complying with the law — it's about safeguarding the long-term commercial value you're building. For growing companies, a single misstep can quickly escalate into an existential threat. We know your time and resources are limited and we're focused on helping you stay ahead of these risks with practical, cost-effective solutions shaped by our decades of real-world, in-house experience advising companies investing and operating in high-risk places.

Why managing these risks matters

- Corruption can trap businesses in cycles of extortion, creating risks to your people, draining resources and stalling growth
- Governments can cancel permits and licences or seize assets when corrupt conduct is uncovered, seriously eroding value
- Corruption, sanctions breaches or human-rights violations can destroy trust with partners, investors, customers, local communities and regulators
- The investors and lenders that you need for growth increasingly expect credible management of business integrity risks, especially in high-risk markets
- Effective risk management supports your brand, protects the long-term value of your business and strengthens your investment case today and for the future

How we help

Right-sized risk assessments

We deploy our deep experience to identify where your real exposure lies and help you prioritise effort where it will have the biggest impact — without unnecessary complexity.

Practical compliance foundations

We help you put in place essential, proportionate measures to manage corruption, sanctions and human-rights risks. Simple, clear controls that employees can actually implement.

Support to overcome challenges and pursue opportunities in high-risk environments

If you face corrupt demands or networks, permitting delays, local government pressure or human rights challenges, we provide practical support based on decades of experience resolving similar issues in over 50 countries across Europe, the Middle East, Africa, Asia Pacific and the Americas.

If you're trading in markets that are subject to today's volatile trade sanctions risks, we work with your team to develop practical, risk-based mitigating measures, drawing on our experience managing these risks for companies that operate globally.

Investor & lender readiness

We understand what major investors, lenders and multinational partners look for when assessing companies in high-risk markets. We help you meet those expectations and build your credibility, strengthening competitive advantage by demonstrating your ability to protect and grow value for the long term.

What you can expect from us

- Clear, plain-English guidance grounded in real-world experience
- Practical steps that match your business profile, risk appetite and resources
- Support that strengthens your ability to protect long term value and build confidence with stakeholders
- Senior involvement in every engagement

Let's talk

If you're operating in a challenging environment, preparing to expand or attract investment, or if you simply want to strengthen your approach to business integrity risks, we'd be delighted to help.

Contact: tim.robinson@robinsonwhite.co | michael.white@robinsonwhite.co | robinsonwhite.co