Dear Y's Leaders and Members

This is an interesting time for Y's Men International as we regroup and adapt to current situations and challenges. Our organisation is facing a time of change and we are making much effort to meet those demands during a time of larger nation-wide and global change. To be involved in YMI is exciting and I hope that we will continue to meet and bring inspired people together in events such as these.

In "Building Today for a Better Tomorrow" I am confident that we can further promote the our mission where earnest service and warm fellowship is expressed and shaped by Christian values, encouraging us to work well together for the common good of all mankind. We will prepare well for tomorrow by doing our best today. I am inspired by many people who continue to work quietly and steadily behind the scenes to make things happen for everyone's benefit. You should be very proud of where you are today and expectant about where you are headed in the future.

Our motto "To Acknowledge the Duty that Accompanies Every Right", reminds us that there are two sides to every coin. YMI can offer members a wide range of experiences and benefits, but it is surprising to find out that great satisfaction can be achieved through service to others – through "servant leadership". And you who are attending this event, are examples of those willing to serve their community at a higher level.

Shortly, YMI will look forward to 2022 where we celebrate our 100th Anniversary and the formation of this Association. Take time to reflect on the solid achievements of the past and consider in what ways this heritage can be enriched and enlarged through service and leadership in the future. Let us build a strong movement to take us into the next 100 years!

I encourage you all to think about how you can make a difference to YMI if you choose to! Be serious about your connections and opportunities – make them strong, make them enjoyable and make them significant!!

Blessings and regards,

IPE Jennifer Jones
