It's All About The Positives

If you take a look into the lives of some of the most successful people in the world you can be almost certain that they are extremely hard working and very determined. Determination is a crucial ingredient to becoming successful irrespective of what you are doing.

Have you ever watched a toddler trying to put the different shapes into the puzzle they are working on. The frustration and disappointment they have written on their face when they can't get it right is difficult to watch, but if they are determined enough they will eventually succeed and this is a fantastic glimpse into the young mind.

To maintain a healthy level of determination can be difficult if the time span is months, years or decades, but it is definitely possible if you stay focused and more importantly stay positive.

Positivity Is Key

A famous Henry Ford quote,

“Whether you think you can, or think you can’t — you’re right”

The great innovators have it in spades and they work hard to hang on to it every day. No doubt there are times when it is tough to maintain high levels of it but they persist. The best thing about it is that it doesn't cost anything to buy and everyone can adopt it and use it to significant benefit for themselves and others around them.

To capture it and use it is all in your head, you need to decide if you want to use it or perhaps leave your greatest weapon dormant.

Positive attitude will allow you to challenge yourself and potentially achieve things far beyond what you have envisaged. It will pick you up after a bad day or get you moving forward again after a failure of some description.

Your attitude will determine your success or your failure, so put all that negativity aside and focus on the positive. Be an optimist at best or a realist at worst and leave pessimistic thinking to others.

If you surround yourself with positive people then you will all thrive on each others attitudes with the effects and results amplified for the better. Now almost the same goes with negativity, so if you are surrounded with these types of people then the effects will be amplified but for the worst this time.

It is said that you are the average of the 5 people you hang around the most. So if this is true then pick wisely and try and avoid the 'Negative Nelly's' of the world.

There is no right or wrong way to go about changing or improving one's attitude, but it doesn't cost anything to do it. Try and look for the positives and wind back the volume and frequency of the negatives. Baby steps is all it takes to get started and if you fall over get back up and keep going.

So with sheer determination driven by positive can do attitudes you can and will achieve far more than you thought was possible.

Whether that is:

- Saving for a house deposit
- Starting a new business venture or side hustle
- Creating an investment portfolio
- Completing some valuable training or a qualification
- Climbing a mountain
