In the Art Vault

Janis Ellison has been a working artist and instructor for over 30 years, and also taught special education. She became serious about art when she took pastel classes from Albert Handell in New Mexico in the early '90's.

Janis has been published in The Pastel Journal 100 as an award winner, and is currently the president of Pastel Artists of Oregon.

On the Gray Wall Nancy Sterling

After exhibiting as a guest artist earlier this year, Nancy Sterling has joined our co-operative and has stepped up as featured artist on the grey wall. Nancy graduated from the University of Washington with a BFA. She began her career in advertising as an art director and creative director at several national agencies.

We are also happy to welcome back John Acosta to a line-up of talented artists. John writes, "I think each person should have a painting that speaks to their soul by an artist who created it just for that purpose."
