

This side is all directional. Actor should showcase ability to convey emotion without speaking and follow direction.

---

Man types at his desk. WOMAN enters. Runs her finger across the desk--quite seductive.

                                WOMAN
          Busy?

                                MAN
          Yea.

Woman flashes a naughty smile.

                                WOMAN
          You sure?

She leans in, kisses him.

She looks down at what he's typed on the computer. Smiles. Reaches past his shoulder and types, biting her lip. Smiles again.