WORLD CUP

IGT (International GT) was created in 2013 with the first race at the beginning of the 2014 race season at Sebring.

The concept behind the series was a well structured home for the later model GT3 and spec cars that are now no longer eligible for their respective series.

The Maranello Cup is IGT's home for the breathtaking Italian models. The Ferrari Challenge, Lamborghini Super Trofeo and other versions of Italy's finest racers.

PREPARATION

The key to a successful weekend begins in the workshop. Meticulously checking and double checking the car from top to bottom.

Keeping track of mileage, the age of the major components and a good supply of replacements to keep the wheels turning.

Scheduled maintenance and service requirements to ensure the car is at its peak in both appearance and performance at all times.

TRACK SUPPORT

At the track, the focus of the weekend is efficiency. To maximize your seat time experience while minimizing any potential frustration.

Having a team behind you with the necessary expertise, tools, equipment and spares is a must to ensure your weekend is a success.

With services including full arrive and drive, travel logistics, driver coaching, engineering, and much more, let us take the stress out of your racing experience.

ENGINEERING

It takes more than just talent to keep you up front.

Our team works with some of the worlds best engineers and driver coaches to optimize both your personal performance and the performance of the car.

Keeping track of in-car video and data, then making adjustments necessary to push you and the car to your full potential and get you one step closer to achieving your goals.

TRANSPORT

Your cars in great hands.

Our dedicated race transporter ensures your vehicle arrives worry free to each event with required spares and supplies to keep you on track all weekend.

The rig also has an air conditioned driver lounge for drivers to keep their gear and get changed in privacy.
