Unity Party of Colorado Candidate for Governor

Bio

I was born the same day that the U.S. exploded its largest hydrogen bomb in history. After five years on a Kansas farm, my family moved to Denver. I've lived in ten states during my life, and for more than one year total in several EU countries, India, and the Soviet Union (before it broke up).

At age ten I vowed to promote the best solutions to the world's biggest problems. I was elected President of the Student Council at Goldrick elementary school, attended one year at Maharishi International University, and was a teacher of Transcendental Meditation.

My three pioneering ballot initiatives created headlines worldwide, even setting local news media records. In Colorado, I've run for U.S. Senate, House District 2, and Mayor of Denver. I was Vice-President of Special Projects for the DaVinci Institute.

Now I'm an entrepreneur and the owner of COCUUN, LLC, which promotes world-changing solutions across a wide spectrum of industries and sectors of society. I'm also author of RAISE the ZONE, which explains why governments fail to prevent and solve major problems. It also explains how to reverse the downward spiral of Colorado and our nation.

I was married for 28 years to an amazing woman, then divorced, and now I'm single with no distractions and ready to serve the people of Colorado and raise the quality of life for everyone.

The solutions proposed on my campaign website have been ranked higher in affordability and effectiveness than those of all other candidates for Colorado governor. I'm one of Colorado's leading experts in applied coherence technologies and graphene, which are predicted to have over $10 trillion in global economic impact by 2050.

What are your top three issues and why?

Health – Inner and outer environmental health are our greatest resources. Poor health contributes to the downward spiral of life in all areas. Good health can be more affordable with my solutions. Colorado-wide environmental pollution of air, water and electromagnetic fields are root causes of a spectrum of mental and physical health disorders. These disorders are worse and more common for lower income earners due to racism and inequitable health care policies. These pervasive sources of pollution can be reduced relatively quickly with affordable and effective solutions that have been ignored by Democrats and Republicans. Then, both health and financial benefits will cascade throughout Colorado, and especially throughout lower income communities who are disproportionately burdened by these sources of pollution.

Economic development – “A rising tide lifts all boats”. Increasing prosperity for all is the single best solution for equitably increasing affordability of housing, food, healthcare, transportation, and overall quality of life for everyone. It’s also the best solution for increasing equitable funding across all communities in health, public safety and education, and ensuring the highest quality of roads, bridges and other public infrastructure.

Fortunately, the new and pioneering economic engines that I can bring to Colorado involve technologies that also improve the quality and sustainability of all these areas. Moreover, these economic engines can reduce underlying causes of climate change while also becoming exportable products and services. That will bring billions of dollars into Colorado and create tens of thousands of jobs with livable wages.

Public safety – Everyone in Colorado deserves to feel safe, wherever they are. The root causes of crimes, all forms of violence, substance abuse, suicides, racism and accidents are excessive stress and incoherence on an individual and societal level. Alleviating these underlying causes by using proven and available technologies, is the most affordable and effective way to ensure the best public safety for all Coloradans and visitors to Colorado. Cost-savings from better public safety solutions will enable more funding for crime prevention, substance abuse treatment, and reintegration of convicted persons back into the community. It will also result in better pay, training and other benefits for public safety personnel.
