

HOLY WEEK

Love Poured
Out

www.welcomesoul.com.au

We arrive at the cross.

*Not rushed.
Not triumphant.
But attentive.*

*In the Gospel of Matthew 26–27, love looks like
breaking bread,
washing feet,
staying present in suffering.*

Move slowly this week.

*When you see love —
small or sacrificial —
pause and give thanks.*

The cross shows us:

God does not avoid our dust.

*He enters it.
And redeems it.*

Love stays.

Lord,

*Words fail me at the cost
you chose for our redemption.*

Lord I thankyou for your love. Love that does not shy away, but love that steps into our mess. Help me to love like You do.

Amen
