Summary

There is too much material to present.

What are the most important parts?

- 1. Values and needs are what drive people.
- 2. If we don't learn positive values, and positive principles for living, we have no empathy and concern for others and nature.
- 3. Spiral Dynamics looks at the various value systems around the world.
- 4. I explored if Spiral Dynamics can be used to facilitate values development.
- 5. My conclusion is that at each level, if you're going to get to the next level of values, you would have to give up your present set of contacts, people you associate with.
- 6. Or, you would have to explain to others you are evolving to other values to grow.
- 7. Most people are not willing to do that.

At the end of the presentation, I'll show you what we need to do to Evolve Society.

Major International Conflicts

- 1. Russia / Ukraine / NATO / United States
- 2. North Korea / South Korea / United States
- 3. Taiwan / China / United States
- 4. Israel / Palestine
- 5. Iran / United States / Israel
- 6. Sudan / Russia (Influencer)
- 7. Pakistan / India / China (Influencer)
- 8. Global migration causing arrival country backlash, shifting governments to the right.

Emerging Issues

What is going on that Spiral Dynamics is not accounting for?

- Problematic Multinational Alliances: (NATO, BRICS, OPEC)
- Global migration from corruption, crime, climate change
- Culture war
- Social media creating hostility
- Psychopathic leaders
- Military, Industrial, Congressional, Intelligence, Media/Entertainment, Academic, Think Tank complex generating violence and war industries

8. Turquoise (Holistic/Interconnected)

Global thinking culture, collective individualism, collective intelligence. Driven by peace, harmony, tranquility.

7. Yellow (Systemic/Integrative)

Self-development, continuous learning, flexibility, functionality, hierarchies based on knowledge and competency. Driven by integrity, sincerity, humility, self-awareness.

6. Green (Relativistic/Communitarian)

Egalitarianism, pluralism, multiculturalism, environmentalism, sharing community, sustainable economy. Driven by tolerance, respect of others, altruism, consensus, cooperation, fairness.

5. Orange (Achievement/Materialistic)

Creativity, competition, technological progress, entrepreneurialism, capitalism, consumerism. Driven by money, image status, fame, success, and recognition.

4. Blue (Order/Authoritarian)

Conformity, obeying rules, respecting procedures and traditions. Absolute authority of religion and/or rulers. Code of conduct based on dogmatic principles of "right" and "wrong." Driven by duty, faith, discipline, restraint, virtue, guilt, after-life.

3 Red (Domination/Egocentric)

Asserting one's individual power and subduing others. Fulfil one's desires to the detriment of others. Cult of heroes. Powerful gods. Slavery. Driven by instant gratification, impulse, adventure, bravery, honor, glory.

2. Purple (Magical/Animistic)

Tribes, spirits of nature, mysterious powers, magic, rites, rituals, taboos, curses, spells, voodoo. Driven by sacredness, imagination, fear of the unknown, belonging, camaraderie.

1. Beige (Archaic/Instinctive)

Basic survival needs: food, water, warmth, rest, sex, safety.

Spiral Dynamics

Levels, Focus, Potential Problems

Sanford Hinden

Spiral Dynamics: Development of Human Values, Beliefs, and Worldviews

1. Spiral Dynamics is a model describing the development of human values, beliefs, and worldviews evolving over time.
2. The model is intended to provide a framework for understanding human development not a definitive categorization of people.

Spiral Dynamics: Development of Human Values, Beliefs, and Worldviews

- 3. Each level in Spiral Dynamics represents a different worldview and set of values, and each level has its own strengths and weaknesses, with potential faults or problems that can arise at each level.
- 4. These potential problems are not universal or inevitable.
- 5. People at each level can exhibit a range of behaviors.

Spiral Dynamics: Levels, Focus, Potential Problems

6. Rigid cultural traditions, economic inequality, and political repression can limit individuals' and societies' ability to move towards higher stages of development.
7. Levels are transcended when people believe they are stuck and *there has to be a better way.

Spiral Dynamics: Levels, Focus, Potential Problems

8. It is not clear whether the development levels of societies can be rapidly facilitated and accelerated to avoid global conflict and collapse.
9. Individual human development is facilitated and accelerated through:
 - Positive personal experiences
 - Positive social and cultural influences
 - High-quality education
 - Exposure to diverse perspectives

- Elza Maalouf focuses on what causes a culture to emerge and prosper, or stagnate and fail.
- Systemically dysfunctional societies inch closer by the day into collective chaos through oppression, inequality, and violence.
- As they face an increasingly interconnected world, people need to keep from backsliding into the grasp of feudal, unhealthy ideologies by taking charge of their own inalienable rights to freedom, equality, and prosperity.
- Functional Democracy is a process for governance based on the Beck-Graves model of value systems and the theories of Spiral Dynamics Integral.
- Maalouf, the founder of the Center for Human Emergence Mideast and co-founder of the Build Palestine Initiative, is a geopolitical expert on the region where she pioneered the application of Large-Scale Psychology and design concepts to conflict resolution.
- By placing democracy in an evolutionary, value-system's framework that is indigenously specific to the region, she clarifies the foundations necessary for cultural change.
- Maalouf's framework for decoding the complexities of the Middle East succeeds in many places where the West's approach to conflict resolution has failed. By weaving together the threads that make up the patterns of each culture, she shows the crucial roles memes play in creating a system of governance that truly fits.
- We need to seek understanding before we structure. Maalouf's Functional Democracy is based on youth building their own sustainable, indigenous ideas and processes.

Functional Democracy

Elza S. Maalouf

- Elza S. Maalouf is author of Emerge! The Rise of Functional Democracy and the Future of the Middle East. An Arab-American futurist and cultural development specialist, Elza's work is focused on cultural, business, and political reform in the Arab world. She lectures widely in the West on the complexities of the Muslim world and widens the horizon of understanding of Western cultures in the East.
- Elza is a former attorney and corporate executive. Her innovative approaches to leadership and organizational development draw on over two decades of experience in the areas of depth psychology, world philosophies, management sciences, political thought and consciousness studies. Elza integrates these disciplines seamlessly in designing strategies for macro and micro solutions.
- As one of the foremost expert in Memetics—the study of societal paradigms—of the Middle East, Elza is recognized as one of today's brightest minds in the field of Mid-East societal development.
- She is co-founder of the Center for Human Emergence Middle East, a think tank that emphasizes the scientific understanding of cultures. She is a pioneer in the implementation of Integral and Spiral Dynamics methodologies in the Middle East. To this rich body of work, Elza is now adding her original concept of Innovations in Memetic Technologies™ which includes depth psycho-spiritual understandings and indigenous-design applications.

The Eight Levels of Human Existence in Spiral Dynamics

Dr. Don E. Beck

- Dr. Beck was founder and CEO of the Spiral Dynamics Group, Inc., and founder of the Global Centers for Human Emergence, a worldwide constellation of Value System Experts (VSEs) and Integral Design Architects (IDAs) who are helping facilitate the conscious emergence of the human species using a synthesis of profound breakthroughs in human knowledge and capacities.
- Dr. Beck was named Outstanding Professor at the University of North Texas in 1978. He has since co-authored two books – The Crucible: Forging South Africa's Future and Spiral Dynamics: Mastering Values, Leadership and Change. Over a 10-year period, he worked with influential political and business leaders in South Africa during that country's transition from Apartheid, from FW De Klerk to Nelson Mandela and John C. Hall, Chairman of South Africa's National Peace Committee.
- He has since worked with Tony Blair's Policy Unit, the World Bank, and in Israel and Palestine through the CHE-Mideast and the Build Palestine Initiative. He remains the foremost authority on issues that deal with global value systems and large-scale change.
- For decades Dr. Beck taught, developed, and implemented the evolutionary theory of Spiral Dynamics, adapting the work of his mentor and colleague Clare W. Graves to the field of Large-Scale Psychology, developing multidimensional leadership models for understanding the evolutionary transformation of human values and cultures.

MEMEnomics

Said Elias Dawlabani

MEMEnomics of Said Elias Dawlabani

The framework illustrates that as societal and economic complexities increase, a culture experiences new problems that cannot be solved by the previous system. Cultures must transition to new higher-order value systems to solve existential economic and social problems or face decay and entropy. Each cycle corresponds to a predominant value system level that is color-coded in the Spiral Dynamics theory.

3rd Level	FIEFDOMS OF POWER CYCLE		Aligns with the 3rd level red values of the human ego in raw form identified with the warrior archetype, egocentrism, heroism, and feudalism. Power is vested in the charismatic individual.
4th Level	PATRIOTIC PROSPERITY CYCLE		Identified with the values of the communal 4th level blue system of righteous living, law, order, the one-true-way, and heavy regulation. Power is vested in the institution.
5th Level	ONLY MONEY MATTERS CYCLE		Identified with the values of the individualistic 5th level orange value system of strategic enterprise, personal advancement, and resource manipulation.
6th Level	DEMOCRATIZATION OF INFORMATION AND RESOURCES CYCLE		Aligns with a 6th level green value system, that of egalitarianism, equality, and community. The internet represents the systemic entry into this value system. Its overarching purpose is to eliminate hierarchy and seek the equal distribution of information, knowledge, and resources.
7th Level	FUTURE FIFTH MEMENOMIC CYCLE		Based on the big picture views of the 7th level yellow system, the first level of the second tier systems, a significant breakthrough to humanity's momentous leap, not tied to a particular ideology, it is a functional system that does what works based on the problem at hand, making considerably more effective decisions in less than half of the time and with less than half of the resources than the entire six systems that appeared before it. Informed by the awareness of the interdependence of life on a planet with finite resources.

MEMEnomics

Said Elias Dawlabani

- Said Elias Dawlabani is a developmental theorist and a leading authority on the application of value systems to large-scale change. He's a writer and public speaker specializing in the Gravesian approach to psychosocial development and the evolution of societal systems.
- Named one of the world's boldest thought leaders in 2019, he is author of MEMEnomics, The Next-Generation Economic System which brought recognition of the value systems framework as a specialty in the field of evolutionary economics.
- Since 2018 he has turned his attention to the application of the Gravesian model to climate change and the economics of the Anthropocene, which is the focus of his upcoming book.
- His latest book, The Light of Ishtar (2021), is a personal memoir that chronicles his journey in life with his wife and soulmate Elza Maalouf through myth and psycho-spirituality.
- For two decades he worked closely with the late Don E. Beck, a renowned geopolitical adviser, who was Graves' successor and one of the architects behind South Africa's transition from Apartheid. He was also the co-author of Spiral Dynamics, the most authoritative theory on value systems and change.
- Dawlabani cofounded The Center for Human Emergence Middle East with Beck and Maalouf. The center is a think tank that frames sociopolitical and economic issues facing the region through the prism of value systems.

"Said E. Dawlabani does a brilliant job in placing current economic activity into an evolutionary model that helps reshape the thinking of visionary business leaders of the future. I highly recommend this book."

Can Spiral Dynamics
Help Humanity Evolve to Avoid Global Conflict & Collapse

Sanford Hinden

Political Parties

- People and political party beliefs are dominated by certain ideas.
- When there are competing ideas, society-culture can seem like it is splitting apart.
- There are seven sets of ideas in multi-party democracies.

- Each group may criticize the others.
- They often don't clarify the policy and programs for how people would live, function, and relate if their dominant ideas took over.
- This leads to constant bickering and a waste of time.
- We need to clarify what living together collaboratively on a flourishing planet would look like.

Self Interest

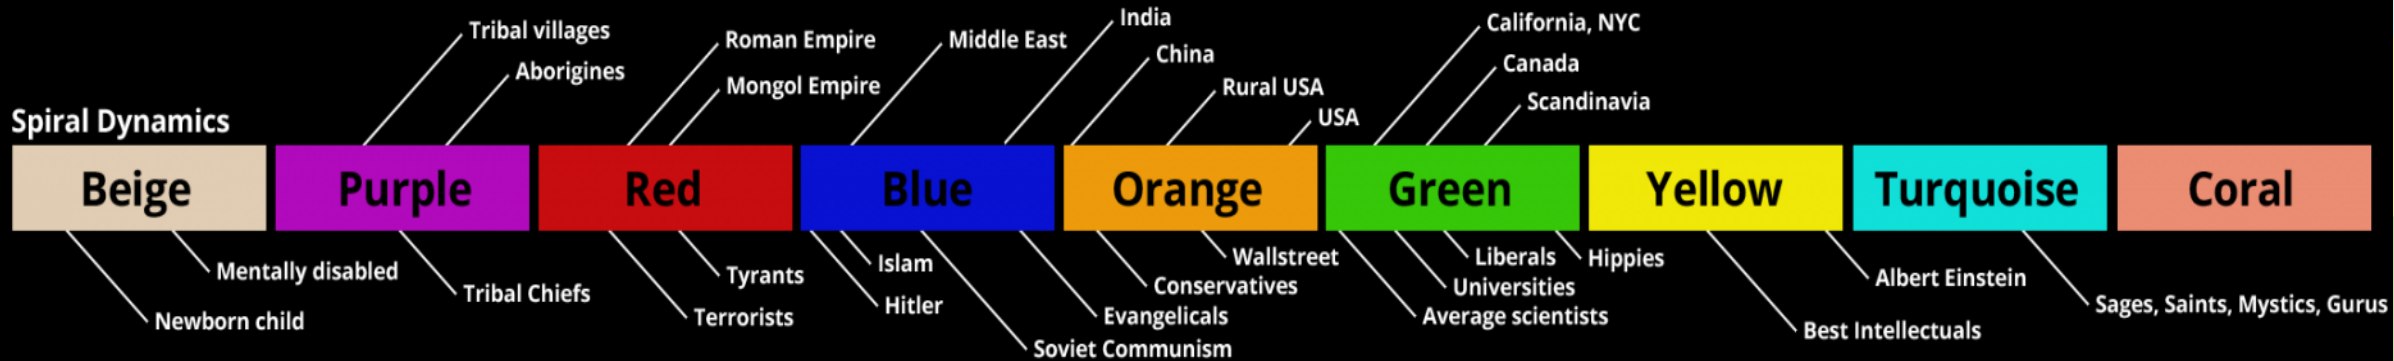

Protecting One's Interests

- Financial
- Social
- Civil

People would feel their interests are being protected on a flourishing planet.

1. As most people become wealthier, they move to the Right politically to protect their financial interests and become more conservative.
2. In the US, wealthy gay people most often stay within the Left Progressive parties to protect their civil interests.
3. In the US, most white religious people move to the Right to protect their financial and social interests.
4. In the US, most black religious people stayed within the Left Progressive party to protect their civil rights.
5. So, people seek to protect their financial, social, and civil interests within various political parties.
6. As people become wealthier, they tend not to need relationships as much because they can buy the help and services they need.

The Culture War

1. The “Culture Wars” are disagreements over values.
2. They are fueled by “intersectionality” and “cross-marketing” to create large aligned issue-identity camps, voting blocks, and political parties that profit from voters being locked into their political platforms.
3. With media and social media marketing, the level of intensity, hostility, and violence keeps increasing each year.

Why do some people never change their minds?

There are several reasons why some people may be resistant to changing their minds:

1. Cognitive Biases
2. Confirmation Bias
3. Intellectual Rigidity
4. Emotional Attachment
5. Social Influence
6. Lack of Exposure to Diverse Perspectives

Why do some people never change their minds?

There are several reasons why some people may be resistant to changing their minds:

1. COGNITIVE BIASES: Humans are prone to cognitive biases, which are systematic errors in thinking that can distort our perception of reality. These biases can make it difficult for people to consider alternative viewpoints or new information that contradicts their existing beliefs.
2. CONFIRMATION BIAS: Many individuals actively seek information that confirms their existing beliefs while ignoring or dismissing contradictory evidence. This confirmation bias can create a self-reinforcing cycle that makes it challenging to change one's mind.

Why do some people never change their minds?

There are several reasons why some people may be resistant to changing their minds:

- 3. INTELLECTUAL RIGIDITY: Some people have a strong need for certainty and dislike uncertainty or ambiguity. This rigidity can make it challenging for them to consider new information or different perspectives that might introduce uncertainty or require reevaluation of their beliefs.
- 4. EMOTIONAL ATTACHMENT: People often develop emotional attachments to their beliefs and identities. Changing one's mind can be psychologically challenging because it can feel like admitting a personal failure or challenging deeply held values. This emotional attachment can make it difficult for individuals to consider alternative perspectives.

Why do some people never change their minds?

There are several reasons why some people may be resistant to changing their minds:

- 5. SOCIAL INFLUENCE: Our beliefs and opinions are often shaped by our social environment, including family, friends, and communities. People may be hesitant to change their minds because they fear social disapproval, rejection, or alienation from their social groups.
- 6. LACK OF EXPOSURE TO DIVERSE PERSPECTIVES: Limited exposure to diverse ideas and perspectives can contribute to a closed-minded mindset. If individuals are primarily surrounded by people who share similar beliefs, they may not have the opportunity to encounter alternative viewpoints that could challenge their existing opinions.

Spiral Dynamics to Help Humanity Evolve

1. Spiral Dynamics is a psychological model. It describes the development of individuals, groups, and societies through various stages of values and worldviews.
2. Spiral Dynamics can contribute as a tool in the quest for human evolution.
3. It offers insights into how human beings perceive and interact with the world around them.
4. Spiral Dynamics suggests that individuals and societies progress through different stages of development, each characterized by distinct value systems and ways of thinking.
5. The model emphasizes the importance of understanding and respecting the values and needs of different individuals and cultures.

Spiral Dynamics to Help Humanity Evolve

5. Spiral Dynamics can provide a framework for understanding and analyzing human behavior and be a useful tool for fostering empathy and cooperation among diverse groups.
6. By recognizing the different value systems at play, individuals and societies can work towards greater:
 - Inclusivity
 - Collaboration
 - Social progress
7. It can also help identify areas where growth and development are needed, both at the individual and collective levels.

Spiral Dynamics to Help Humanity Evolve

8. Its application and effectiveness in evolving humanity depend on various factors, including the:
 - willingness of individuals and societies to engage with the model
 - willingness to adapt their behavior accordingly

9. Evolution of humanity requires a multifaceted approach involving:
 - Education
 - Cultural exchange
 - Ethical considerations
 - Sustainable practices
 - Shared commitment to positive change

It is important to note that while some people may be resistant to changing their minds, others are more open and receptive to new ideas.

People can change their minds, but it is ultimately up to the individual to be open to reconsidering their beliefs.

They may choose to change their minds:

- 1. When presented with compelling evidence
- 2. By providing reliable information
- 3. With logical arguments
- 4. Having new personal experiences
- 5. Engaging in respectful dialogue
- 6. Fostering empathy can sometimes facilitate mindset shifts
- 7. Through gradual shifts in their understanding over time

We need to be detectives and explorers of Spiral Dynamics.

It is a good system for understanding
8 Levels of Human Consciousness and the accompanying Values.

Can people evolve more rapidly?

People can become stuck in their present level.
Getting to the next level would require them to go beyond present community connections on their level of consciousness and seek new connections at the next level of consciousness.

So, people may not want to do that because it requires great effort to find new friends...
new associates... new work connections...
on the next level.

They would need to explain the Spiral Dynamics model to family and friends.

Facilitating Evolution with Spiral Dynamics

Its application and effectiveness in evolving humanity depends on various factors, including:

- Willingness of individuals and societies to engage with the model
- Willingness to adapt their behavior accordingly

Developmental progress is influenced by a wide range of factors, including:

- Personal experiences
- Social and cultural influences
- Exposure to diverse perspectives
- Promoting education, tolerance, and social and economic equality
- Fostering a culture of innovation and collaboration

Going Beyond the Culture War

We need a ceasefire by the Culture Warriors to allow emotions to calm down and the mind to develop further. You can become mindful, meditate, and detach from the addictive Culture War, one day at a time.

A culture must go through sequential developmental stages to develop the necessary resilience before it can become a united thriving democracy.

Interest groups and tribes need to subordinate their belief systems into higher values of peaceful co-existence, inclusion, and harmony, to identify with the ideal of one nation under one flag.

Nations need to subordinate their belief systems into higher values of peaceful co-existence, inclusion, and harmony, to identify with the ideal of one planet with one world system.

Nations must go through sequential developmental stages to develop the necessary resilience before they can become a united thriving planet.

Competitive Win/Lose Finite Games

are played with the goal of getting to the end of the game and winning, while following static rules. Every game has a beginning, middle, and end, and a distinctly recognizable final winner.

Collaborative Win/Win Infinite Games are played for the purpose of continuing play rather than winning. An infinite mindset, and openness to change aligned with infinite play build stronger, more innovative, inspiring, and resilient organizations and systems over larger timescales.

Sandy Hinden is a very exceptional human being entirely devoted to a better, ideal world. I have known him for more than 30 years.

He constantly inspired me for my work and efforts at the United Nations. He had ceaseless great ideas. He encouraged me to not give up.

I would be so happy to see him in charge of a major newspaper section on good news and happiness for the people. He would be very precious for a major philanthropic organization, especially one dealing internationally. I would support his candidacy with the highest terms.

Dr. Robert Muller (1923-2010)

Former UN Assistant Secretary General

Cofounder, UN University for Peace, Costa Rica

“Sandy is an inspirational actionist! He is not afraid to ask the tough questions and explore heartfelt responses to them. The ones that have to do with how we got into this mess as humanity, and what it’s going to take for us to get out of it. His wealth of experience and human kindness, combined with political savvy and collaborative working style, make learning with and from him an enriching experience, and always a joy.”

The Evolution of Society

Sanford Hinden

The Evolution of Society

Dear Friend of Earth & Humanity,

Society seems to be deteriorating. Values differences cause people to drift apart into different silos of information and communities of support for their ideas.

People then become less friendly and less interested in creating solutions that benefit all of society. They seek to gain benefits only for themselves and their community of support.

Mass media and social media are thriving on conflict and amplifying conflict.

We need to collaborate if we are going to flourish as a whole society. We need to help people evolve in consciousness if they are going to help society, systems, and institutions evolve to live on a sustainable planet. Our monthly meeting is a gathering of people interested in the evolution of people, society, and our planet Earth as a whole.

Please join us and invite your colleagues and friends. We will be meeting monthly 1 pm ET. You can register with the link on page 3.
