ABOUT OUR COMPANY

TanTyTum Contractors, LLC is a Native American-owned small business and certified Indian Economic Enterprise (IEE) and Indian Small Business Economic Enterprise (ISBEE), specializing in federal contracting services for government entities at all levels. Founded and led by CEO Chris Tayrien, TanTyTum brings over 35 years of operations and business leadership experience to every project.

Built from the ground up with an entrepreneurial spirit and a commitment to excellence, TanTyTum has grown from a two-truck startup to a multi-million dollar operation — delivering attentive, expert service on every contract. The company proudly honors the traditions and heritage of the Osage and Eastern Shawnee Native American Tribes, bringing those values of integrity and stewardship to every client relationship.

TanTyTum is positioned to be a trusted partner for government prime contractors seeking a qualified, certified Native American-owned business to fulfill federal contracting needs. The company responds to the demands of an evolving marketplace with agility and expertise, building lasting strategic partnerships rooted in value and service.

KEY DIFFERENTIATORS

Certifications & Set-Aside Advantages:

Eligible for sole-source and set-aside federal contracts as an IEE/ISBEE certified firm, with multiple certifications (MBE, DBE, SLBE) opening doors across federal, state, and local government opportunities. TanTyTum is an Authorized Dell Federal Reseller.

Proven Leadership: CEO with 35+ years of hands-on operations experience — a business built and run by a proven leader with a track record of scaling from startup to $4 million.

Relationship-Driven Approach: Established working relationships with local government agencies and unions, with a strong commitment to compliance — reducing risk for prime contractors seeking reliable teaming partners.

Agility and Responsiveness: Small business structure allows for faster decision-making and more direct client communication than large contractors, with an entrepreneurial approach that drives creative problem-solving on every project.
