Meeting for Worship for Business
Hopewell Centre Monthly Meeting, March 8, 2026
Clerk Dick Bell, Presiding

The Clerk opened the Meeting with a moment of silence.

CQE: (Continuing Quaker Education)

"The Quaker tradition at its very heart is built around the conviction as the peoples of God we all can participate fully in the unfolding of God's work in the world. No matter how inexperienced or unqualified we think we may be (1cor12:14)." Wess Daniels is the William R. Rogers Director of Friends Center and Quaker Studies at Guillford College.

Comments included: As Quakers, we should participate in our Meeting. We were not sure what "fully" meant.

Thanksgiving and Concerns: Martha Hanley is thankful that her friend Jennifer has qualified for disability insurance but is still concerned that the amount will not cover all of her expenses.

Treasurer's Report: Jim Riley gave the following reports:

Major items for January included:

Contributions:

Individual and Family	$ 1,000
Use of Centre	980

Expenses:

Laura Nell Fund	$ 340

Checking Account Balance: $ 18,440

Fund totals:	Laura Nell	$ 38,677
	Sarah Zane	4,206
	Youth	11,450

Major items for February included:

Contributions:

Individual and Family	$ 3,000
Use of Centre	120

Expenses:

Quarterly Insurance	$ 2,881

Checking Account Balance: $ 19,790

Fund totals:	Laura Nell	$ 38,687
	Sarah Zane	4,208
	Youth	11,453

The complete Treasurer's report is attached to the original minutes.

Jim stated that the Laura Nell Fund is not "needs based" and that he will be meeting with the committee soon to outline the requirements for using the fund.
He also gave an update on the Ann Janney estate which included money left to Hopewell Centre from the sale of her condo. There has been a long delay in the settlement because the executor of the estate died. Jim is in contact with the bank and is hopeful that this matter will be resolved soon.

The clerk will be out of town June 7th through 12th. He will probably not miss worship on the seventh.

Respectfully submitted,

Ministry and Counsel

Social Concerns and Outreach:

We have not met, but we've been busy!

On Sunday, Feb. 22, we had a great group stay after potluck at Centre to address envelopes to 91 churches, synagogues and mosques in the greater Winchester area to share the Shepherdstown Harms minute. A cover letter stated:
Please share this with your congregation. We seek ways to join in community to support our common values. What does your faith call you to do? Will you sign on and stand with us?
Replies were directed to our clerk, Dick Bell's, email. No responses as of now.

Donna Knight led a great team of walkers for the annual WATTS Coldest Night of the Year. Thank you to all who participated and donated!

Our outreach of providing lunches to the WATTS Warming Center continues. Thank you to Dick Bell, Katherine May and Donna Knight for the most recent lunch. The next lunch will be Wednesday, March 18. Dick Bell, Dan and Margie Riley have volunteered.

Preparation continues for our Spring Spirituality Retreat on Saturday, March 21. A flyer has been posted at Centre Meeting House and also shared on the BYM weekly news email. Eight people have signed up and typically in the last two weeks before the event that registration grows. Members and attenders are encouraged to share the event flyer (it's been emailed to our list) even if not planning to attend. Thank you!

Margie Riley has met with the Regional Gathering Planning Committee for the upcoming March 29 Gathering at Goose Creek. Queries are being planned to guide us in exploring how our Meetings might work together on current social and spiritual concerns. This gathering is sure to be a rich opportunity to connect with our wider Quaker community. An invitation was sent out to our email list and a copy will be posted at Hopewell Meeting House. Please RSVP to Margie if you're planning to go as this will help Goose Creek with their planning for seating and parking. Worship at Hopewell Meeting House will also be available that Sunday.

Kevin Slick and Anne Bacon have continued to work on getting an online merchandise "store" set up with threadless.com. Kudos to Kevin for his diligent work in setting up options, a task that has required quite a bit of back-and-forth time. An email will go out soon with the link and log in information.

Anne Bacon will be speaking at this year's AME luncheon at Shenandoah University, on March 14. Ticket sales have closed. We look forward to hearing news of the event.

Margie Riley is continuing to work with the Valley Interfaith Council on an Earth Kindness Festival for April 18 at Centre Meeting House, from 10 -1. We've talked with AA to coordinate this timeframe. Betty McCormick will be coordinating a Hopewell Centre "Free Cookies" outreach table. Please let her know if you can bake cookies! Kevin Slick will be performing. There will be lots of engaging information tables and fun activities for all - a flyer will be coming out soon. Does anyone have portable canopies we can use? Rain or shine - Save the date!!

Building and Grounds:
Jim Riley reported that the water piping in the porch bathroom is being repaired along with the installation of a new toilet. Also, the gutters are being cleaned at Centre.

Pastoral Care:
The comfort quilt is now back at Hopewell and is available for anyone in need of its comfort. Just take it and bring it back when you are no longer in need of it.

Hospitality: The committee thanks everyone for all of the food brought in for our snack time.

Old Business:

Donna Knight asked that we all take pictures of community events that we are involved in and send them to her for the newsletter.

Martha Hanley will update the donation information for Jennifer if anyone would like to contribute to it.

New Business:

Jim Riley reported for the Nominating Committee consisting of himself, Becky Ebert, and Dick Bell. They are looking for Friends to fill the positions of Clerk, Assistant Clerk, Recording Secretary, Assistant Recording Secretary, Treasurer, Assistant Treasurer, and also to join committees. The new positions will take effect on July first. Please see Jim, Becky, or Dick if you need more information or would like to volunteer.

Anne Bacon encouraged us to serve on a BYM committee. It is easy to attend a meeting since most are on Zoom.

Becky Ebert is putting together an exhibit of Quakers during the Revolution at Hollingsworth Mill. It will open on April 1. Also, Paul Britner is writing an article which will be published in the Historical Society Journal for the 250th celebration.

Peter Ford was asked to share his autobiography written at the request of a publisher to accompany his Grief Journal manuscript. He is working on getting the journal published.

Anne Bacon asked about Apple Blossom parking at Centre. Scott Lynch has been working with the city of Winchester to get permission to use the main gate to the parking area.

Announcements:

March 18: WATTS Warming Center Lunch
March 21: Spirituality Retreat at Hopewell, 8:30 - noon.

From the clerk

March, named for the Roman god of war, was the start of the old Roman year, which is why Februarius (February), the shortest month, was devoted to religious festivals and ritual cleaning so that last year's religious baggage did not color the new year's promise. It makes sense because the vernal equinox occurs in March and marks, in the northern hemisphere, the time when daylight wins its annual contest with darkness. That also explains why September through December are months seven through ten in the old Roman calendar.

War is now upon us. The United States and Israel launched a surprise air war against Iran to decapitate its leadership and destroy its military. Destruction and death have rained down upon Iran. While no fan of the ayatollah and his regime, in my opinion our acts, besides the ensuing death and destruction these forays have caused, raise the natural question of retaliation. Maybe not now but in the future. We have lived in relative safety compared to nations in the Middle East. But there is an uncertain amount of weapons grade uranium no one seems to know the whereabouts of, and the United States has many military and diplomatic targets in the region. How about here at home? All of this underscores our peace testimony. When world affairs are conducted without the threat of war suddenly gap-toothed Mars is reduced to a sorry historical afterthought. War is not the answer.

Seemingly a great many of our fellow citizens feel the same way.

What to do? Take to the streets? Write columns? Network?

I think it is my duty as a citizen, as a Quaker, and as clerk of the meeting to raise this concern repeatedly. Everyone with a pulse knows the Quakers stand for peace.

Civilization is built on collaboration and peace. America was founded in part because we were far enough away from the broils of Europe to develop peacefully. Sadly, that did not come to pass. Armed conflict has been part of the American story almost since its inception. Cultures built through military might are empires. All empires eventually fall.

We are long overdue in this country for a major correction toward peaceful growth and harmony with our brethren. May that correction begin with us.

Every year we celebrate the birth of the Prince of Peace. Maybe one year soon we can carry that celebration all year, then through many years thereafter. Maybe we could banish war.

Respectfully submitted, R. Dixon Bell 3/17/26

Easter Week
by
Charles Kingsley

See the land, her Easter keeping,
Rises as her Maker rose.
Seeds, so long in darkness sleeping,
Burst at last from winter snows.
Earth with heaven above rejoices;
Fields and gardens hail the spring;
Shaughs and woodlands ring with voices,
While the wild birds build and sing.

You, to whom your Maker granted
Powers to those sweet birds unknown,
Use the craft by God implanted;
Use the reason not your own.
Here, while heaven and earth rejoices,
Each his Easter tribute bring -
Work of fingers, chant of voices,
Like the birds who build and sing.

AN OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE THE MEETING

In the coming months, the meeting will be reviewing and making adjustments to our slate of officers and committees. The nominating committee will be contacting Friends to see if they have a leading to serve the meeting on a committee or in some other way.

We are asking all to think about this query: What is Mine to Do?

There are a number of committees that carry out the functions of the meeting. Are you called to serve on one? If you are currently serving on one, would you like to make a change?

Our committees include:

Social Concerns and Outreach

Finance

Building and Grounds (including Interiors and Graveyard)

Pastoral Care

Hospitality

Also, we recognize that not all are called to serve on a committee.
I was recently reminded of a Quaker game invented in the UK. It is about the nominating process. It is called “Unwilling and Unable.” Our hope is that we have many who are both willing and able to serve.

Friday – Sunday, May 22 – 24, 2026 • Pendle Hill Retreat Center
Wallingford, PA

Embracing the Inner Light of the Self -

Carl Jung, Psychedelics,& the Modern Spiritual Journey

Join us for a reflective weekend where we will tend to the inner life that steadies us in uncertain times. Explore the many forms of awakening — dreams, connection with nature, deep relationship with others, grief and loss, and, for some, supervised clinical work with sacred medicines. Gather with us, as we explore how those encounters can be met and integrated with integrity.

Speaker: Dr. John W. Price, co-founder of the Center for Healing Arts and Sciences in Houston,Texas and host of the respected podcast The Sacred Speaks. John will lead our plenaries and offer guidance for small-group work that will help re-enchant our daily lives.

We will ask:

- How do we live in service to what we have seen and felt?
- How do we remain grounded and avoid spiritual inflation?
- How do we shape lives marked by love, humility, purpose and joy?

Come to Pendle Hill for rest, authentic conversation, and companionship on your spiritual journey.

Please note: Onsite use of psychedelics is not part of the conference. This year up to 13 CEUs are offered at no additional charge for PA LCSWs, MFTs, and LPCs.
