New Testament Reading: Hebrews 9:11-15

When Christ came as a high priest of the good things that have come, then through the greater and perfect tent (not made with hands, that is, not of this creation), he entered once for all into the Holy Place, not with the blood of goats and calves, but with his own blood, thus obtaining eternal redemption. For if the blood of goats and bulls, with the sprinkling of the ashes of a heifer, sanctifies those who have been defiled
so that their flesh is purified, how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish to God, purify our conscience from dead works to worship the living God!
For this reason he is the mediator of a new covenant, so that those who are called may receive the promised eternal inheritance, because a death has occurred that redeems them from the transgressions under the first covenant.

The Gospel: John 10:22-42

At that time the festival of the Dedication took place in Jerusalem.
It was winter, and Jesus was walking in the temple, in the portico of Solomon.
So the Jews gathered around him and said to him, "How long will you keep us in suspense?
If you are the Messiah, tell us plainly." Jesus answered, "I have told you, and you do not believe. The works that I do in my Father's name testify to me; but you do not believe, because you do not belong to my sheep. My sheep hear my voice. I know them, and they follow me. I give them eternal life, and they will never perish. No one will snatch them out of my hand. What my Father has given me is greater than all else, and no one can snatch it out of the Father's hand. The Father and I are one." The Jews took up stones again to stone him. Jesus replied, "I have shown you many good works from the Father.For which of these are you going to stone me?" The Jews answered, "It is not for a good work that we are going to stone you, but for blasphemy, because you, though only a human being,
are making yourself God."
Jesus answered,
"Is it not written in your law, 'I said, you are gods'? If those to whom the word of God came were called 'gods' — and the scripture cannot be annulled — can you say that the one whom the Father has sanctified and sent into the world is blaspheming because I said,
'I am God's Son'? If I am not doing the works of my Father, then do not believe me.
But if I do them, even though you do not believe me, believe the works, so that you may know and understand that the Father is in me and I am in the Father." Then they tried to arrest him again, but he escaped from their hands.
He went away again across the Jordan
to the place where John had been baptizing earlier,
and he remained there.
Many came to him, and they were saying,
"John performed no sign, but everything that John said about this man was true."
And many believed in him there.

St. Elizabeth of the Trinity (1880-1906) - Feast Day: Nov. 8

In a world filled with constant noise, distraction, and busyness, the Church gives us a saint whose entire life was a quiet testament to the presence of God within the human soul. On November 8th, we celebrate the feast of Saint Elizabeth of the Trinity, a French Carmelite mystic who reminds us that heaven begins right here on earth.

Born Élisabeth Catez in 1880 near Bourges, France, Elizabeth grew up as an energetic, strong-willed child with a fiery temper. Yet behind her lively personality was a deep attraction to prayer.
As a gifted young pianist, she won first prize at the Dijon Conservatory at just thirteen years old. While she loved music and social gatherings, her heart belonged entirely to Christ.

Despite her mother's initial reluctance to let her enter religious life, Elizabeth persevered with patience and loving obedience. In 1901, at twenty-one years of age, she entered the Discalced Carmelite Monastery in Dijon, taking the name Sister Elizabeth of the Trinity.

Inside the convent walls, Elizabeth blossomed. Her name reflected her deepest spiritual insight: that the Holy Trinity—Father, Son, and Holy Spirit—dwells intimately in the soul of every baptized person. For Elizabeth, God was not a distant judge, but a loving guest dwelling within her heart. She often encouraged her friends and family to turn inward during their busy days, recognizing that they could talk to God anytime, anywhere. As she famously wrote: "It seems to me that I have found my heaven on earth, since heaven is God, and God is in my soul."

Her time in Carmel was brief. In 1906, at the age of twenty-six, Elizabeth contracted Addison's disease, an incurable illness at the time that brought intense physical suffering. Despite the excruciating pain, she offered her sickness as a prayer of thanksgiving and love. She saw her suffering not as a burden, but as an opportunity to be transformed into an image of Christ's self-giving love. She peacefully passed away on November 9, 1906, leaving behind spiritual writings and letters that continue to inspire believers around the world. Pope Francis canonized her on October 16, 2016.

Saint Elizabeth's message is especially relevant for parish communities today. You do not need to enter a cloistered monastery to experience the intimacy of God's presence.

Whether you are working, raising a family, caring for a loved one, or navigating personal trial, the Trinity dwells within your soul. In moments of stress, pause for a quiet second, turn your focus inward, and simply say: "Lord, I believe you are here with me."

As we celebrate St. Elizabeth of the Trinity this November, let us ask for her intercession to help us build an inner sanctuary of prayer amidst the business of daily life.

Saint Elizabeth of the Trinity, pray for us!

We are still looking for sponsors for our bulletin!

If interested, please contact us at contact@ololcolumbus.org

Thanks to your commitment and generosity, our community will flourish.
