1. I will give them all the graces necessary for their state of life.
2. I will give peace in their families.
3. I will console them in all their troubles.
4. I will be their refuge in life and especially in death.
5. I will abundantly bless all their undertakings.
6. Sinners shall find in my Heart the source and infinite ocean of mercy.
7. Tepid souls shall become fervent.
8. Fervent souls shall rise speedily to great perfection.
9. I will bless those places wherein the image of My Sacred Heart shall be exposed and venerated.
10. I will give to priests the power to touch the most hardened hearts.
11. Persons who propagate this devotion shall have their names eternally written in my Heart.
12. In the excess of the mercy of my Heart, I promise you that my all powerful love will grant to all those who will receive Communion on the first Fridays, for nine consecutive months, the grace of final repentance: They will not die in my displeasure, nor without receiving the sacraments; and my Heart will be their secure refuge in that last hour.

New Testament Reading: Romans 11:25-36

So that you may not claim to be wiser than you are,
I want you to understand this mystery:
a hardening has come upon part of Israel, until the full number of the Gentiles has come in.
And so all Israel will be saved; as it is written,
“Out of Zion will come the Deliverer;
he will banish ungodliness from Jacob.”
“And this is my covenant with them, when I take away their sins.”
As regards the gospel they are enemies of God for your sake;
but as regards election they are beloved, for the sake of their ancestors;
for the gifts and the calling of God are irrevocable.
Just as you were once disobedient to God but have now received mercy because of their disobedience, so they have now been disobedient in order that,
by the mercy shown to you,
they too may now receive mercy.
For God has imprisoned all in disobedience
so that he may be merciful to all.
O the depth of the riches and wisdom and knowledge of God!
How unsearchable are his judgments
and how inscrutable his ways!
“For who has known the mind of the Lord?
Or who has been his counselor?”
“Or who has given a gift to him, to receive a gift in return?”
For from him and through him and to him are all things.
To him be the glory forever. Amen

The Gospel: Matthew 28:16-20

The eleven disciples went to Galilee,
to the mountain to which Jesus had directed them.
When they saw him, they worshiped him;
but some doubted.
And Jesus came and said to them,
“All authority in heaven and on earth
has been given to me.
Go therefore and make disciples of all nations,
baptizing them in the name of the Father
and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit,
and teaching them to obey everything
that I have commanded you.
And remember,
I am with you always,
to the end of the age.”

Saint Germaine Cousin – Feast day: June 15

St. Germaine Cousin, a gentle shepherdess from Pibrac, France, lived a life of quiet suffering and unwavering faith. Born in 1579 to humble parents, Germaine's early life was marked by hardship, physical suffering, and rejection. Yet in the face of adversity, she displayed a deep love for God, a tender devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary, and a heart full of compassion.

From infancy, Germaine's life was difficult. She was born with a deformed right hand and a disease known as scrofula, a form of tuberculosis that left her physically frail. After the early death of her mother, her father remarried, and Germaine's stepmother treated her with cruelty and contempt. She was often neglected, given little food, and forced to sleep in the stable or under the stairs.

Considered unclean and unworthy, she was denied a place in the family home and excluded from even the most basic comforts.

Despite this harsh treatment, Germaine never responded with bitterness. Instead, she accepted her suffering with patience and offered it up in union with Christ. She found solace in prayer and developed a strong relationship with God. She attended daily Mass whenever she could, often leaving her flock unattended—yet her sheep were never harmed, as if under divine protection. She would set her staff in the ground and trust that God would guard her sheep while she knelt in adoration.

Germaine had a deep devotion to the Rosary and carried a simple string of beads with her as she tended sheep. She also had a tender concern for the poor and would share her meager bread with beggars, trusting in God's providence for her own needs. Her charity and simplicity became known in her village, and over time, her holiness began to shine through the hardship she endured.

One of the miracles attributed to her during her life occurred when her stepmother accused her of stealing bread and hiding it in her apron. When the apron was opened, instead of bread, fragrant summer flowers fell to the ground—even though it was winter. This incident led to a softening in her family's treatment of her.

Germaine died at the young age of 22, around the year 1601. After her death, many miracles were reported at her gravesite, and her body was later found to be incorrupt. Pilgrims began flocking to Pibrac to seek her intercession, and devotion to her spread.

Pope Pius IX canonized her in 1867, declaring her a saint not because of heroic deeds or worldly success, but because of her great faith, purity of heart, and love in the face of suffering. St. Germaine Cousin is a powerful example of how holiness can flourish even in the most hidden and painful circumstances.

Her feast day is celebrated on June 15. She is the patron saint of abused children, the disabled, and the unwanted. Through her example, we are reminded that no life is too small or too broken to be touched by God's grace and made radiant with His love.

St. Germaine Cousin, pray for us!
