Thank You

My most sincere thanks goes to everyone who helped make our Lenten and Easter seasons so wonderful! Thank you to each of you who had some part in making it happen! There are too many to name, but please know that I am eternally grateful and blessed to have such talented friends, parishioners, staff, and volunteers.

Sincerely in Christ,
Father Jacques Kik

SAFE ENVIRONMENT PROGRAM

OLV continues to follow the Diocese of Columbus commitment to the protection and safety of children and the Safe Environment Program. The Safe Environment Program mandates that all Volunteers 18 years or older who would like to participate in parish programs or ministries who have been delegated care, custody, or control of children must complete this program. Information on the specific process and program registration can be found on the Our Lady of Victory website: ourladyofvictory.cc – located under the “Religious Ed” tab. You may also contact Pat Fulcher at religioused@ourladyofvictory.cc for this information.

CONGRATULATIONS ROGER AND GRANT!

The Columbus Serra club has awarded St. Agatha students, Roger Purkey and Grant Soder $1,000.00 tuition assistance grants for a Catholic high school. Roger and Grant merited the award by submitting two of the ten best essays in the Serra Club’s third annual priestly vocation essay competition. For the competition, an eighth-grade boy writes an essay of five hundred words or less on whether or not he thinks God might be calling him to be a priest. Bishop Fernandes will present the awards and medals to Roger and Grant on May 3 during the Serra Club’s Altar Server Award ceremony at St. Joseph Cathedral.

New Testament Reading: 2Timothy 2:8-13

Remember Jesus Christ, raised from the dead, a descendant of David – that is my gospel, for which I suffer hardship, even to the point of being chained like a criminal.

But the word of God is not chained.

Therefore I endure everything for the sake of the elect, so that they may also obtain the salvation that is in Christ Jesus, with eternal glory.

The saying is sure: If we have died with him, we will also live with him; if we endure, we will also reign with him; if we deny him, he will also deny us; if we are faithless, he remains faithful –for he cannot deny himself.

The Gospel: Luke 24:13-35

On that same day two of them were going to a village called Emmaus, about seven miles from Jerusalem, and talking with each other about all these things that had happened.

While they were talking and discussing, Jesus himself came near and went with them, but their eyes were kept from recognizing him.

And he said to them, “What are you discussing with each other while you walk along?”

They stood still, looking sad.

Then one of them, whose name was Cleopas, answered him,

“Are you the only stranger in Jerusalem who does not know the things that have taken place there in these days?” He asked them, “What things?”

They replied, “The things about Jesus of Nazareth, who was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people, and how our chief priests and leaders handed him over to be condemned to death and crucified him.

But we had hoped that he was the one to redeem Israel.

Yes, and besides all this, it is now the third day since these things took place.

Moreover, some women of our group astounded us.

They were at the tomb early this morning, and when they did not find his body there, they came back and told us that they had indeed seen a vision of angels who said that he was alive. Some of those who were with us went to the tomb and found it just as the women had said; but they did not see him.”

Then he said to them, “Oh, how foolish you are, and how slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have declared! Was it not necessary that the Messiah should suffer these things and then enter into his glory?” Then beginning with Moses and all the prophets, he interpreted to them the things about himself in all the scriptures.

As they came near the village to which they were going, he walked ahead as if he were going on.

But they urged him strongly, saying,

“Stay with us, because it is almost evening and the day is now nearly over.”

So he went in to stay with them.

When he was at the table with them, he took bread, blessed and broke it, and gave it to them.

Then their eyes were opened, and they recognized him; and he vanished from their sight.

They said to each other, “Were not our hearts burning within us while he was talking to us on the road, while he was opening the scriptures to us?”

That same hour they got up and returned to Jerusalem; and they found the eleven and their companions gathered together. They were saying, “The Lord has risen indeed, and he has appeared to Simon!” Then they told what had happened on the road, and how he had been made known to them in the breaking of the bread.

Saint Longinus: The Roman Centurion Who Witnessed the Crucifixion

Longinus is a figure in Christian tradition best known as the Roman soldier who pierced the side of Jesus Christ during the Crucifixion. Although his name does not appear in the canonical Gospels, it is preserved in later Christian writings and traditions, especially in apocryphal texts such as the Acts of Pilate.

According to tradition, Longinus was a Roman centurion stationed in Judea at the time of the Crucifixion.

In the Gospel of John (19:34), an unnamed soldier pierces Jesus’ side with a spear, causing blood and water to flow out. This moment became deeply symbolic in Christian theology, representing the sacraments and the birth of the Church.

Over time, this anonymous soldier came to be identified as Longinus, a name possibly derived from the Greek word lonche, meaning “spear.”

Legend holds that Longinus suffered from poor eyesight or partial blindness. When he pierced Jesus’ side, some of the blood and water touched his eyes, miraculously healing him. This event led to his conversion to Christianity.

Moved by what he had witnessed—the darkness, the earthquake, and Jesus’ final words—Longinus proclaimed Jesus as the Son of God, echoing the statement found in the Synoptic Gospels attributed to a centurion.

After the Crucifixion, tradition says Longinus left the Roman army and was baptized. He then became a Christian missionary, traveling to preach the Gospel, often said to be in Cappadocia (modern-day Turkey). His bold preaching eventually drew the attention of Roman authorities during a time of persecution against Christians.

Refusing to renounce his faith, Longinus was arrested and sentenced to death.

Longinus is venerated as a martyr. According to legend, he was beheaded for his unwavering belief in Christ. Some accounts add that his tongue was cut out before his execution, yet he continued to proclaim his faith miraculously. His relics are said to have been preserved and venerated in various parts of the Christian world.

The spear used by Longinus, often called the “Holy Lance” or “Spear of Destiny,” became an important relic in Christian history and legend. Various churches and empires have claimed to possess it over the centuries, and it has been associated with both religious devotion and mythic power.

Saint Longinus is recognized in several Christian traditions, including the Roman Catholic Church, the Eastern Orthodox Church, and the Armenian Apostolic Church. However, his feast day differs depending on the tradition. In the Roman Catholic Church, his feast day is celebrated on March 15. In the Eastern Orthodox Church, he is commemorated on October 16, where he is honored both as a martyr and as the centurion who recognized Christ’s divinity.

Longinus’ story highlights themes of conversion, faith, and redemption. From a soldier participating in the execution of Jesus to a devoted follower willing to die for his faith, his life represents the transformative power of grace and the redemptive death of Jesus.
