For Immediate Release — May 1, 2025

Zazel Publishing, LLC is proud to announce the release of the debut novel by Phillip S. Roberts, The Luckiest Fool on Earth: The Twisted Yarn of America's Greatest Flagpole Sitter, Alvin "Shipwreck" Kelly. The work of historical fiction, charts the life of the most unlikely hero of the Roaring Twenties and Depression Era. Based on real-life events in New York City and beyond the five boroughs, the book is a great gift for adult readers who like a story that is a rollercoaster of ambition, deception, and redemption.

In a tumultuous time of daredevils and thrill-seekers, the former sailor, boxer, Hollywood stuntman, and steeplejack, set a short-lived world record — 49 days aloft over the Atlantic City boardwalk during the summer of 1930. The Luckiest Fool on Earth is an ambitious, unusual look at a fascinating human being who could boast a number of strange and spectacular feats but couldn't solve the more base problems of his own life.

Roberts previous collection of original photographs taken within Hawaii's tourist mecca, Waikiki Tiki: Art, History, and Photographs was published in 2010 by Bess Press.

The Luckiest Fool on Earth will be available October 1, 2025 in hardcover $29.95 (ISBN 9798998504204), paperback $17.95 (ISBN 9798998504211), and e-book $9.99 (ISBN 9798998504228) formats through on-line retailers and select book stores worldwide. Distributed by Ingram Spark. Size — 6" x 9" — 290 Pages.
