WHO ARE WE....

REEL PROPERTIES exists because too many liaison outfits forget what productions actually need... we don't! Based in British Columbia, we operate where filmmaking meets the real world, supporting productions of all sizes and budgets. Our team is made up of industry-savvy professionals who are knowledgeable, hands on and have real life film experience. Our foundational commitment is to deliver expert solutions, fostering strong, collaborative relationships with production companies as well as the properties we represent while upholding the highest levels of integrity and accountability to the location and the community in which it impacts. In short: we do the job properly, with people who speak your language, respect the work and protect the location.
