

How to Share Your Faith in 5 Minutes

The Mission is Urgent

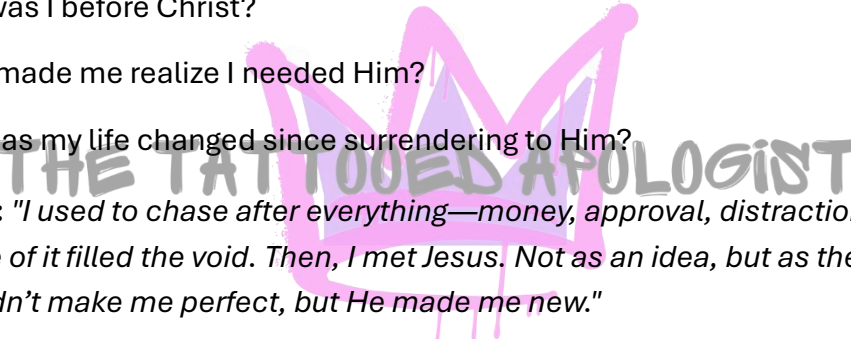

You don't need a theology degree. You don't need all the answers. You just need boldness and a clear message. The Gospel is life-changing, and you've got five minutes to plant a seed that could echo into eternity. Here's how to share your faith with confidence, clarity, and conviction—quickly and powerfully.

Step 1: Lead with Your Story (1 Minute)

People connect with authenticity, not rehearsed sermons. Keep it real. Keep it short. Share how Jesus changed your life.

Ask yourself:

- Who was I before Christ?
- What made me realize I needed Him?
- How has my life changed since surrendering to Him?

 Example: "I used to chase after everything—money, approval, distractions—until I realized none of it filled the void. Then, I met Jesus. Not as an idea, but as the real, risen Savior. He didn't make me perfect, but He made me new."

Step 2: Lay Down the Gospel (2 Minutes)

Keep it straight. Keep it powerful. This is the core message of Christianity:

-  God's Design – We were created for relationship with God. (Genesis 1:27)
-  Our Problem – Sin separates us from Him. (Romans 3:23)
-  Christ's Rescue – Jesus took our punishment, died, and rose again. (Romans 5:8)
-  Our Response – Repent, believe, and follow Him. (Romans 10:9)

 Example: "We were made for something more, but sin wrecked it. Instead of leaving us lost, Jesus took our place, died for us, and conquered death. Now, through faith, we can be restored. This isn't religion—it's redemption."

Step 3: Ask the Question (1 Minute)

Evangelism isn't just talking—it's inviting. Get them thinking:

- “What do you think about Jesus?”
- “Have you ever considered your relationship with God?”
- “If eternity is real, where do you stand?”

Let the Holy Spirit do the work. You're planting seeds, not forcing conversions.

Step 4: Call for a Response (1 Minute)

If they're open, invite them to take the next step:

- ✓ Pray with them.
- ✓ Share a Bible or resource.
- ✓ Connect them to a local church or online community.

 Example: “If you're ready, talk to God right now. No magic words—just surrender. Tell Him you believe, you repent, and you're ready to follow.”

Final Charge: Just Be Faithful

You're not responsible for the results—just the obedience. The Gospel is the power of God (Romans 1:16). So go. Share boldly. Speak truth. Love radically. And trust that every word, every conversation, and every act of faithfulness matters in eternity.
