

Garden Steps

Garden steps are an integral part of landscape design. They connect different levels and help with space utilization...but more than that, when coupled with a path, they create anticipation of what is around the corner!

