The Sacrament of Baptism

Baptism is celebrated on dates that are mutually convenient for Father DiMaria and the parents. Before a Baptism date can be set, parents should secure letters of eligibility for their recommended Godparents and present them to the rectory. Parents attendance at our Parish's Pre-Jordan program should be satisfied before a Baptism date is set. Parents are asked not to make any celebratory arrangements until a Baptism date is confirmed by our Rectory staff.

The Sacrament of Confession

Saturday afternoon: 3:00pm – 3:45pm.
By appointment at the rectory anytime.

The Sacrament of Marriage

Please speak to Father DiMaria at least six months before your anticipated Wedding date. Couples should not make any celebratory arrangements until after they have met with Father at our Parish.

The Sacrament of The Sick

Please speak to Father DiMaria if you or a family member wish to receive the Sacrament of the Sick. It is always appropriate to receive this Sacrament before surgery, during a serious illness or in the final stages of life.

Our Parish Prayer of Unity

Heavenly Father,
You call us to be Your faith-filled people,
United in the Sacred Heart of Your Son.
Grant us the grace to always respond to Your call with lives of active faith, firm hope and Christian charity.
Aided by the example of Saint Augustine,
may we always seek to embrace and love
the teachings of Your Church.
Accompanied by Our Lady of Mount Carmel,
may we, in joyful times and in times of Sorrow,
always strive to be faithful followers of Your Son,
Jesus Christ,
for He lives and reigns with You,
in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
One God, forever and ever!
Amen!

From the Pastor's Desk

Godspeed, Deacon Jim!

For many years Deacon Jim Mahar served the people of Saint Francis of Assisi parish in Norristown. When he retired from active diaconal ministry there, he decided that he wanted to serve a small parish closer to his home in King of Prussia. When the pandemic was at its height last year and when Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion were understandably hesitant to function in their liturgical role, Deacon Jim offered his services to Father Nasta to assist with Mass and the distribution of Holy Communion. We have been blessed during the last year to have Deacon Jim with us whose humor, compassion, joy, and Christian witness have been a blessing to us.

On August 26, Deacon Jim informed me that his health issues along with his increasing difficulty with mobility has caused him to decide that it would be best that he no longer serve at the altar. Today will be Deacon Jim's last day with us. However, demonstrating his generous spirit, Deacon Jim will continue to visit some of our homebound parishioners and bring them Holy Communion.

Please join me in thanking Deacon Jim for his service at Sacred Heart and to pray that our Lord will continue to bless and sustain him and his family in the years ahead.

Thank you, Deacon Jim!

Welcome Seminarians

For many years I have been convinced that the Church needs to reach out in search of lapsed Catholics and invite them to return to the practice of the faith. I also believe that we need to invite all people of good will to consider following Christ in the Catholic Church.

I have a few ideas on how to concretely carry that out. One such idea recently came to fruition. Nicholas Sharga and Prezemyslaw Rozestwinski are seminarians who are studying for the priesthood and who are presently in the "spirituality program" held in the former convent at St. Matthew's Parish in Conshohocken. They will be with us during the Tuesdays of this semester and will be visiting homes to engage in conversation with people and to invite them to make Sacred Heart their spiritual home. Their first day with us will be on September 7th.

Welcome Nicholas and Prezemyslaw.

Sacred Heart Parish thanks Knights of Columbus Holy Family Council 3327

Upon my arrival in June, I was told about the capital improvements which had been scheduled for completion during the summer. Among those projects was the installation of a fire suppression system for the parish hall kitchen to bring it up to code. That project cost approximately $40,000.00.

It was quite a pleasant surprise when the officers of the local Knights of Columbus approached me and told me about a gift which they wished to give the parish to help defray the cost of the project. I wish to thank the Holy Family Council for their recent donation of $18,500.00. It is a considerable amount of money for which we are very grateful. Please support the Knights of Columbus. They are an excellent group of dedicated Catholic gentlemen who seek to serve Our Lord and His Church.

May God bless the Holy Family Council of the Knights of Columbus!

Town Hall Meeting

On the weekend of October 2/3 there will be a brief homily so that immediately following each of the Masses we may have a "Town Hall Meeting." At that time, I will share with you my thoughts and observations concerning the parish. I will also ask that you share with me your thoughts and vision for the parish. Among the topics which I think we need to discuss are the following: the possibility of returning viewings (wakes) to Church, the feasibility of having a parish festival during the summer of 2022, the need for outreach to young people and young families, the state of the religious education program and possibilities for the future. There are some other topics as well which merit our attention. There will also be a Q and A session. I encourage all of us to ask the Holy Spirit to inspire us with His wisdom so that we know how to move forward as a parish community to faithfully serve Our Lord and to invite others to embrace the Gospel which gives true meaning and purpose to our lives.

Guardian angel, watch over those whose names you can read in my heart. Guard over them with every care and make their way easy and their labours fruitful. Dry their tears if they weep; sanctify their joys; raise their courage if they weaken; restore their hope if they lost heart, their health they are ill.

These are difficult times and issues for our country. Are you asking yourself what to do? Prayer is always a good answer. The Sacred Heart Pro Life Holy Hour at 12:00 noon each Wednesday is an opportunity to come together in prayer to ask for God’s help on issues affecting our nation and families. All are Welcome!

The Miraculous Medal Novena is prayed on Saturday mornings following the 8:00 AM Mass.

What We Celebrate on Labor Day

For well over a century, Americans have celebrated Labor Day on the first Monday in September. This national holiday was established in the 1880s for two reasons: to mark the irreplaceable role of the American worker in making this country prosperous and strong; and to have time to attend speeches and events on the spiritual and educational aspects of work, the worker and the good that comes from work.

While in many places, the spiritual and educational aspects of this holiday have been underemphasized — displaced, ironically, by a day off from doing what precisely the nation is celebrating: work — Labor Day remains an opportunity for all of us to reflect on the meaning of human work, and specifically our work, not only for the good of our country but also in God's divine plan.

In the first command in the Bible, the Lord gave the human person the mission to co-operate (work together) with him in bringing His work of creation to fulfillment: "Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth and subdue it; and have dominion over the fish ... the birds ... and every living thing that moves on the earth" (Gen 1:28). God, who worked for the "six days" of creation and whom Jesus says "is still working" (Jn 5:17), made man and woman in his own image and likeness and called them to share in this work.

The first way we do so is through pro-creation, when in the image of the Trinitarian communion-of-persons-in-love we "increase and multiply" that part of creation God deemed "very good." The second way we cooperate in bringing creation to perfection is through "subduing the earth" and exercising "dominion" over all living things.

Right from the beginning, before the Fall, the human person had received this mission, which shows not only the goodness of human work but how central it is for man's dignity, vocation and mission.

After the Fall, both aspects of man's work became toilsome — procreation now would bring with it the "pangs of childbirth" for the woman and the work of subduing and having dominion would now bring "sweat" to one's brow (Gen 3:16-19) — but work would remain fundamentally good, and in fact redemptive.

But the most important part of work was not its "transitive" function of perfecting God's material universe, in cultivating the land, raising animals, and even, in modern times, making computer chips out of sand and life-saving medicines out of bacteria. It was the "intransitive" purpose of bringing God's greatest work — the human person — to perfection. Work done well gives the human person the opportunity to cultivate all the various hidden talents and potentials God has implanted in him — physical, intellectual, and spiritual — which are far greater than those He has inscribed in the earth.

So great was Jesus' appreciation for human work in God's divine plan that he could not stop using it as the proper analogy for his preaching. In his teaching, he favorably mentions shepherds, farmers, doctors, sowers, householders, servants, stewards, merchants, laborers, soldiers, cooks, tax collectors and scholars and many more. He compares the work of the apostolate to the manual work of harvesters and fishermen.

Jesus did not merely praise ordinary human work but shared in it. He spent the vast majority of his life in Nazareth as a manual laborer. His fellow Nazarenes knew him as a "construction worker" (the Greek word teknon, in Mk 6:3, means is broader than "carpenter"). Following his foster-father, Jesus entered into the world of human work, not as a "cover" until his "real work" would begin, but precisely to redeem noble human work in his process of redeeming the human person

He called all his listeners, of whatever noble profession, to be saints. A few he called to leave their fishing boats or tax-charts behind to proclaim the Gospel. The vast majority he called to proclaim the Gospel by living that good news right where they were. That's still what Jesus does today.

Most of his followers are called to live out their discipleship and apostolate, their vocation and their mission, in the family and in the workplace. There they are called to become saints and bring others to sanctity through this "increasing and multiplying" and "subduing" and "dominion."

One's desk, or sewing machine, or kitchen, or chalkboard, or operating room, or workbench or boat, is meant to become an altar which sanctifies not only what is given to God in work, but the giver as well. It is there that the vast majority of men and women are called to be sanctified and sanctify others through showing the original dignity and meaning of human work.

Work is not principally about earning a paycheck, but about serving and loving others. When work takes on this meaning, the perfection of the human person continues, the work-place is evangelized, and God's work is advanced.

On this Labor Day weekend, a diligent construction worker from Nazareth waves to each of us with calloused hands and says, "Come, follow me!"
