

What are the major differences between you and the other candidates seeking this post?

Integrity guides everything I do. That means protecting the confidentiality of vital records, ensuring fair and free elections, and treating every citizen with fairness and respect. I will always speak up when I see practices that fall short of these standards.