Dear Mr. Lieber,

As a veterinarian specializing in animal health for over 40 years, I have conducted a comprehensive study on Gingivite, a natural product aimed at preventing gum disease in cats and dogs. Over a year-long period, I administered Gingivite to a group of pets three times a week. The findings were impressive: 90% of the cats and dogs treated with Gingivite showed a significant reduction or complete prevention of gingivitis. This outcome underscores the effectiveness of Gingivite as a reliable solution for maintaining optimal oral health in pets.

Sincerely,

Dr. Leon D. Jenkins
