A conceptual art project aims to bring awareness and fairness to this genre of contemporary art that it needs. Artists working in the medium have no industry standard wages, very rarely any physical protection from audience members who interact with the performer (and vice versa) and there are rarely controls over unauthorized documentation, reproduction and distribution of the artists' material. There is no one answer or regulation that fits the tastes of all artists in the genre but the conversation about these issues with any venue is where the P.A.U. intends to help start.
