

Teaching Pro

JAE PAULSEN

Jae is a 20 year Air Force veteran, who comes from a 30 year tennis background in both playing and teaching, including receiving a tennis scholarship out of high school and coaching in California and Illinois. He started playing pickleball in December of 2017 when his best friend introduced him to the sport and has been hooked ever since. He is currently sponsored by Armour Pickleball based out of Surprise, AZ and Raquetman based out of St. Louis, MO.

Jae received is International Pickleball Teaching Professional Association level 1 certification and loves to teach everyone from beginners to advanced players. Additionally, Jae has his degree in Sports Health and Science, which helps in assisting those who are more physically limited to come up with ways to advance their gameplay, more conducive to their abilities.

With lessons from Jae comes extras, to include taping of lessons so you can go back and watch them again, after match/tournament one-on-one tape breakdown to assist with understanding what happened during the match(es), including strategy in-point and after-point strategy development.

Private Lesson: $60

Semi Private (2): $ 80

Small Group (3-4): $30/person

Time to Drill: $40 split between players/or $30 for 1 individual

Clinics: Price Varies on location and number of individuals

