LOVE ABOUNDS

Each year on February 14th, friends, family, and romantic partners take part in Valentine's Day, expressing love to each other in various ways. In America, typical gifts include cards, flowers (especially red roses), candy (especially chocolates), stuffed animals, balloons and more.

Most young kids in school will exchange small Valentine cards, often with a piece of candy or a small item (think stickers and very small toys).

On and around this date, restaurants are typically packed with diners looking to celebrate with a nice meal out. If you head out to a restaurant this weekend, get reservations first or prepare to wait at most popular locations!

As we celebrate this year, let us consider what well-known English author C.S. Lewis defined as the four types of love in his book The Four Loves.

- 1. Affection - Often used for family and others you care for.
- 2. Friendship - Very close, lasting bonds.
- 3. Romantic - Reserved for your spouse or partner.
- 4. "Agape" love which is an unconditional God love - A selfless love that exists regardless of changing circumstances.

How will you celebrate this Valentine's Day? At Friendship we will make a craft and encourage everyone to wear red or pink! We recommend you keep the day fun and simply make a point to genuinely let your loved ones know how much you care about them. One thing is true, no one ever gets tired of hearing the words "I love you."
