Summer Edition 2023

As we look ahead to the Free Summer Concert Series, we are reminded of the work we have been building in music education. Students and teachers across Virginia will be taking a much-needed break. As they refresh, relax and wind down, you can be sure that Tidewater Winds did its part to help with summer literacy retention, one of the greatest concerns for teachers returning this fall. Maestro John Brewington, pictured above, and several Winds artists finished the year with a follow-up literacy and music workshop series at Brookwood Elementary School in Virginia Beach from our Reading in Music Education project. Emily Richards is currently a full-time student at Middle Tennessee State University majoring in Music Business with a minor in Mass Communications - Public Relations emphasis. At MTSU, she is studying audio production with a focus on audio and running soundboards. Her goal is to manage musicians with an emphasis on providing career marketing support. She recently moved to Virginia and is attending summer classes at Tidewater Community College, focusing on technical theatre. Ms. Richards will be intern-shared between Tidewater Winds and FFX Theatre for the summer intern program. Emily will help manage Tidewater Winds' high school intern program, support marketing efforts, perform as Stage Manager, and assist with audio engineering.

Welcome aboard Emily!

Tidewater Winds 2023 Arts Admin Intern

A sponsorship of $250 will support our student intern program this summer. Your student will receive Master Classes with guest artists, Private Lessons with section leaders, arts administration guidance for career planning, and Career Exploration with our staff and musicians. "This program offers more music training in one summer than in most 4-year high school band programs". It is rigorous and designed to encourage young students to succeed. Will you help them? Please donate.
