WINERY OVERVIEWS

(Alphabetical Index - not exhaustive - of our Portfolio's PHILOSOPHY + Producers' STORIES!)

ADAMI

The Adami brothers, Franco & Armando (referred to locally as "The Prosecco Brothers"), are small producers with some of the best vineyard sites in the esteemed Valdobbiadene area. Franco leads the Prosecco marketing consortium. Elegant "bubbly" wines: aromatic, deliciously dry, delicately soft yet crisp, & versatile.

ITALY - Veneto

BUONDONNO

BUONDONNO

Gabriele Buondonno's certified organic Chianti Classico production respects traditions & reflects his unique terroir (a historic domain once owned by Michelangelo's nephew). He severely restricts the vineyard yields (he does all of the vineyard & winery work himself). Seductive, lush fruit... bounded by solid structure.

ITALY - Tuscany

CARRAU -- incl. "CERRO CHAPEU"

9 generations in wine (with roots in the Cataluña region of Spain since 1752), the Carrau family - in Uruguay since 1930 - were first to export their wines & in 1973 introduced the idea of using the country's typical grape, Tannat, to make top reserve reds. Francisco Carrau's innovative winery in Cerro Chapeu region is built inside a hill, practicing minimal manipulation. Vineyards located in the highest Environmental Sustainability Index of the world (per a 2005 Yale study).

URUGUAY - Cerro Chapeu

CASAS DEL MAR

Importer Bob Shack met Pedro "Cointreau" Freixas while working for Remy/Cointreau. Later, Pedro married Nuria Alsina, who inherited her family's Cava

SPAIN - Catalonia

	business. Pedro had spent much time in Champagne (c/o his French roots). Their Cava - produced in the traditional method - includes 70 yr old vines, close to the sea.
COQUARD			www.jfcouquard.com	FRANCE + ITALY
	After oenology school in Dijon (&amp; a prestigious internship at Hospices de Beaune), young Jean-François Coquard was recruited by an Italian winery known for producing native Burgundian varietals in Lombardy. During his 15 years as head winemaker at Tenuta Mazzolino, he drew international acclaim including the coveted "Tre Bicchieri" award (5 years in a row for his Pinot Noir). A 13th generation winemaker, he returned to his family roots in Beaujolais now as artisan-négociant.
CRIVELLI			www.ruchecrivelli.it	ITALY - Piedmont
	Marco Crivelli is one of Piemonte's quiet superstars, content to work a small amount of vineyard (8 hectares) &amp; produce a small handful of wines (including indigenous Ruchè). As president of the Consorzio of Ruchè del Castagnole Monferrato, Marco is largely responsible for the DOCG status obtained for that rare wine.
D&amp;N				ITALY - Puglia
	Blended &amp; bottled by one of our longtime favorite producers, Andrea Fossi, D&amp;N is named for his grandfather (Duilio) &amp; his son (Niccolò) who were born exactly 100 years apart. The wines are 1/2 fermented in the traditional style &amp; 1/2 fermented using modern techniques.
DAL MASO			www.dalmasovini.com	ITALY - Veneto
	In the province of Vicenza, halfway between Verona &amp; Venice, winemaker Nicola Dal Maso has brought the family estate to the forefront of wine quality in the Veneto, winning the prestigious Tre Bicchieri and bringing recognition to the little-known zone of Gambellara.
DEGANI			www.deganiwine.it	ITALY - Veneto
	The Degani family has been growing vines since 1900 but only in 1970 began making wine &amp; selling it regionally, mostly in the Verona area. Starting in 1988, Aldo Degani turned attention to making the highest-quality wines possible (including Amarone) &amp; garnered international attention.
DI LENARDO			www.dilenardo.it	ITALY - Friuli
	After a career in Italy's Nat'l Volleyball League, dynamic Max di Lenardo assumed direction of his family's 100 yr old farm in Friuli &amp; restricted production to single-vineyards from their own estate. His wines are now consistently recognized in Gambero Rosso as "Oscar" winners for quality/price (including the top Tre Bicchieri award), thanks to Max's vision &amp; his equally impressive pricing policy: believing that wines are meant to be drunk regularly and enjoyed!
FERRETTI			www.ferrettivini.it	ITALY - Emilia-Romagna
	This certified organic family estate run by sisters practices an artisan approach of traditional Lambrusco: indigenous grapes are manually hand-picked and spontaneously fermented by wild yeasts, both for the first alcoholic fermentation and for the second fermentation in bottle. They adhere to a collective movement named "Emilia Sur Li."
GUICCIARDINI -- incl. "CASTELLO DI POPPIANO"			www.guicciardini1199.it	ITALY - Tuscany
	The Guicciardini family traces proprietorship of the castle at Popiano from 1150 AD, when it was built as a Florentine outpost in an era of great social upheaval. The present Count Ferdinando Guicciardini, not content to rest on his family's illustrious laurels, founded the Consorzio of Chianti Colli Fiorentini.

	In the village of Forst, home to some of the most prestigious sites in the renowned Pfalz region, Lucasof vineyards lie on the gentle slopes of the Palatine Hills overlooking the Rhine River. Brothers Klaus &amp; Hans Lucas employ environmentally sound viticultural techniques for their Riesling, using only organic fertilizers. In the cellar they minimize intervention "to allow common sense, intuition &amp; nature's way to guide the winemaking process."
MARTUSCIELLO			www.salvatoremartusciello.it	ITALY - Campania
	The Martusciello family's focus on "tipicita" (authenticity) highlights the traditions of the long-ignored Campania region (including an official feature of their "Grotta del Sole" wines at the G-7 meeting in Naples). Now son Salvatore offers a select line under his own name, including intriguing fizzy dry red Gragnano.
MAZZOLINO			www.tenuta-mazzolino.com	ITALY - Lombardy
	Oltrepò-Pavese has always felt French influence &amp; for centuries has excelled in cultivating native French varietals (Chard, Pinot Noir) alongside interesting locals (Bonarda). The Braggiotti family calls upon top Burgundian winemakers; their "Noir" is considered one of Italy's best Pinot Neros, repeatedly recognized by Tre Bicchieri.
ORSOLANI			www.orsolani.com	ITALY - Piedmont
	In the Piedmont town of Caluso, Gian Luigi Orsolani follows his family's tradition (since 1894!) of making wines that restore &amp; elevate the ancient reputation of now-rare, indigenous Erbaluce (which he produces in a range of sparkling, still, &amp; dessert versions). Multiple recipient of Italy's highest "Tre Bicchieri" award.
PUNSET			www.punset.com	ITALY - Piedmont
	Marina Marcarino, forerunner in Italian organic production (strictly certified), founded the Vintesa Italian Wines Consortium to promote an organic philosophy, stating: "I wish to confront with the world of conventional wine, and show that we can become great while respecting nature, the environment and ourselves."
RAMPOLLA			www.castellodeirampolla.it	ITALY - Tuscany
	Since 1739, the Di Napoli Rampolla family has owned this historic, prestigious estate in the southern valley of Panzano. One of the 1st Tuscan estates to grow Cabernet Sauvignon, Rampolla helped create the "Super-Tuscan" category &amp; also led the Biodynamic movement.
ROCCA DEL PRINCIPE			www.roccadelprincipe.it	ITALY - Campania
	Nearby Picentini mountains peak Tuoro (1400 m) works as a heat-regulator &amp; emphasizes the temperature range at night and in winter, near the town of Latio.
SANTA BARBARA			www.santabarbara.it	ITALY - Marches
	When Stefano Antonucci's father needed a larger winemaking facility, the only suitable building available in the town of Barbara was the old abandoned convent (named Santa Barbara after an early Roman Christian martyr). Hence the winery's name -- No connection with California! (Instead, discover their famed Verdicchio.)
SCACCIADIAVOLI			www.cantinascacciadiavoli.it	ITALY - Umbria
	Founded in 1884, Scacciadiavoli's name ("cast out the devils") comes from a 19th century exorcist who lived near the vineyard &amp; used those wines to rid souls of demons. The hillside estate (built by Roman Prince Boncompagni-Ludovisi; now owned by Pambuffetti family) lies in the Montefalco appellation, known for indigenous Sagrantino.
SULIN -- incl. "ANTICHI GIOCHI PIEMONTESI" + "TERRE D'ALERAMO"			www.sulin.it	ITALY - Piedmont
	Brothers Mauro &amp; Fabio Fracchia, 4th generation winemakers, produce unique wines such as the inimitable fizzy Casorzo "Voulet" (from red Malvasia). "Sulin" means "sunny" in Piedmont dialect -- describing their hilltop vineyards. "Terre d'Aleramo" is named for the legendary founder of the Monferrato area (the label illustrates Aleramo's fateful horseride that defined this zone) &amp; presents classic Barbera in a fresh, approachable style - at an unrivaled value.

VERBENA		www.aziendaverbena.it	ITALY - Tuscany
The Nanetti family produces a distinctive Brunello, with a uniquely herbaceous nose while retaining the typically powerful nature of the Sangiovese Grosso grape. Wine Advocate declared: "elegant Brunello &amp; Rosso di Montalcino from the eastern part of the zone."
VIETTI 		www.vietti.com	ITALY - Piedmont
In the late 1950s, Alfredo Currado made the innovative decision to produce only "Cru" wines at Vietti. His love of fine art also led him to create striking labels showcasing Piedmontese artists (another industry innovation which spawned many imitators). The Currado-Vietti family (now c/o Alfredo's winemaker son Luca) remains a leading, internationally-acclaimed proponent of Piedmont tradition -- having resurrected the rare white Arneis &amp; giving equal care to their Barbera &amp; Dolcetto, alongside blockbuster Barolo.
