

CHAPPED HIDE

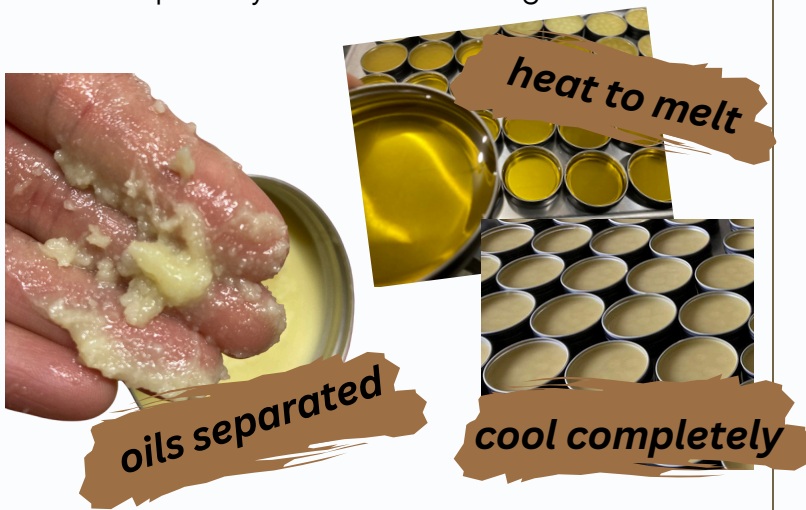

HOW TO CARE FOR YOUR SKINCARE PRODUCTS

NATURAL INGREDIENTS

Your CHAPPED HIDE products are made with natural ingredients. The oils and beeswax will sometimes separate and/or make the outside of the tin greasy with the fluctuation of temperature and humidity. This is completely normal and to be expected. Simply wipe the tin with a tissue and you are all set.

OILS AND BEESWAX SEPARATING

If your Plantain Salve or other CH products appear to have tiny “lumps” instead of a smooth, creamy texture, it means the ingredients have separated. You can still use your products without any further action. However, if it annoys you there are two ways to remelt a tin. First, remove the lid. Then, heat up the bottom portion either in the oven on a baking sheet at 300° or on a skillet on the stovetop at medium until the product completely melts. This can take anywhere from 5-10 minutes. Allow to cool completely before handling.

TIPS FOR STORING

If you're sweating or freezing, chances are your CHAPPED HIDE products are, too. We recommend storing your tins in a room temperature location. To prevent sweating in unwanted places simply tuck your Peppermint Lip Balm or other CH products in a ziplock bag and then toss in your purse or backpack.

OUR PLEDGE OF QUALITY

Skin is the largest organ of our body. Everyone deals with discomfort sometimes, and some people more than others. Our customers use CH to treat a wide variety of issues. While laboratory-made medicine and ointments have their place, at CHAPPED HIDE, we pledge to always use the simplest and highest quality ingredients. Let's face it, antibiotics and steroid creams eventually become ineffective. The majority of our products have a base of olive oil, coconut oil, beeswax and vitamin E. These ingredients have withstood the test of time; and most people will benefit from them. We also use native to Maine, wild herbs to elevate our products as the top tier skincare must-have.
