

New Business Spotlight: Cerulean Wine Bar in Midtown

Posted on April 26, 2022 | Auburn Local Spotlight, Things to do in Auburn | 0

Are you a rosé person? Prefer a white wine? Or do you love bubbly? No matter which kind you prefer, you can find something to suit your palate at the new Cerulean Wine Bar in Midtown Auburn located across from the Auburn Niffer's. They started welcoming customers earlier this month!

Take a tasty journey with their wine flights.

A wine flight consists of multiple different kinds of wine, which are thoughtfully paired together. This unique—and fun—concept is one of the biggest draws at Cerulean Wine Bar in Midtown. You can choose options with fun titles like “You Had Me at Pinot,” “Paint the World Red” and “Soccer Moms Unite.” There’s even one for those indecisive wine drinkers called “I Can’t Decide!”

Fun fact: If you want, you can also order flights by the bottle instead of the glass for group gatherings.

Beer fans can kick back with a brew.

For those of us who prefer a cold beer to a glass of wine, Cerulean Wine Bar has those too. You can choose from a selection of craft beers during your visit.

Enjoy some munchies too.

A good glass of wine always brings out the urge to snack! Cerulean Wine Bar features delicious charcuterie plates. Order early, before they run out!

You can also stop by the nearby food truck, Sword and Skillet, to pair their food with a glass or two of wine.

Bring your faves home with you.

Cerulean Wine Bar aims to introduce you to all kinds of new and amazing wines. Once you find a glass you love, ask if they have any bottles of it available for sale. They have a retail component to their business coming in the future, so you can bring home your new finds.
